U. S. COMMISSIONER DISCHARGES LOWELL HOTEL MEN

Finds Fault In Warrant and Insufficient Evidence Against Hotel Richardson Proprietors Charged With Illegal
Possession of Liquor—Other Cases on List

Because of insufficient evidence and because he would not allow testimony under the search warrant presented, U. S. Commissioner R. B. Welch today discharged the charges of illegal possession of liquor against Thomas F. and Luke Hoban, proprietors of the Richardson hotel and William L. May, clerk. Atty. Dennis J. Murphy for the defendants, claimed that the search warrant in the case specifically limited search to public rooms, service rooms and the cellar of the hotel property and did not allow search of private rooms, such as the office of the hotel proprietors, where in a safe a small quantity of gin and whiskey was found. The commissioner agreed with him and excluded all evidence given under the warrant.

Utilities Commission Orders Revision in Gas Rates Here As Petitioned By Rep. Corbett

(Special to the Sun)

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The public utilities department in its decision on the question of gas rates in Lowell, on which a hearing was petitioned for by Representative Thomas J. Corbett of Lowell, announced the following revisions today:

100 cubic feet of gas per month after Oct. 1 will cost 50 cents. The present rate for that amount of gas is 60 cents.

500 cubic feet of gas, under the revision, will cost $1.02 as against the present rate of $1.16.

1000 cubic feet of gas will now cost $1.59½ as against $1.71.

1500 cubic feet of gas will cost $2.17 as against the present rate of $2.26.

In its decision, the commission says: "As this new schedule reduces the present rate of gas used by ordinary household consumers in whose behalf the particular complaint is made, we are of the opinion that this new schedule should be given a fair trial."

SEPTEMBER'S RAINFALL IS RECORD BREAKER

September's total rainfall measurements in Lowell threaten to break all official records, if further precipitations in abnormal quantities continue throughout the month.
Proprietors of the Locks and Canals for the past seventy years have religiously chronicled and preserved daily correct records covering weather shape of rainfalls. The figures expressed in official charts that are highly prized by the proprietors, show in detail Lowell weather and rainfall statistics covering each day of the year for a period of three score and ten years.
The reports show that the average yearly number of inches of rainfall in this city during the past seventy years was 30.20.

Lowell has had about its normal amount of rainfall thus far this year, according to Locks and Canal records, total inches recorded on Sept. 18 for the months of January, February, March, April, May, June, July and August and the first 18 days of the present month of September, being 31.87. If more rain storms come during the remaining twelve days of the month, September will have broken a few records in the abnormality column.
With the year 1924 three months more to go and a total rainfall up to Sept. 18 already exceeding the average of 30.30 obtained by computing the rainfalls recorded in Lowell since the year 1854, it is extremely likely that the first autumnal month of 1924 will establish itself in the abnormal, or "freak" weather column before Jan. 1, 1925.

Action Not Discussed Here and Is Regarded as Unlikely

No general cut in mill wages in Lowell will follow the announcement made yesterday that employees of the big Amoskeag mills in Manchester, N. H., 30 miles to the north, have accepted a ten per cent reduction in wages.
This is the consensus of opinion of several mill agents or superintendents affiliated with the biggest of Lowell's great mills given in a talk this forenoon with a reporter for The Sun. No concerted action by the mills is even under consideration. It was learned, and the individual mills are loath to take the lead in any wage-cutting movement. In the great cotton mills the final decision in the Manchester parley, a compromise against the com-told of finding a pint of gin and three ounces of whiskey in two bottles in a safe in an office in the rear of the hotel lobby on July 10.

U. S. Commissioner Dis- charges Lowell Hotel Men

Luke Hoban testified that he had placed the liquor in the safe on the day the raid was made after it had been found in a hotel room by a chambermaid and turned over to him. Thomas Hoban said he had no knowledge whatever of the liquor and Mr. May said he did not know of its existence and in fact had no access to the safe.

Witnesses for the government were Federal Agent Lavaca and Detective William F. Liston, of the Lowell police liquor squad.

Agent Lavaca told of entering the hotel on the afternoon of July 10 and of finding in a safe in an office back of the hotel desk a pint of gin and three ounces of whiskey. Other mid-ling officers were Federal Agents McKenzie and Fielding and Sgt. Winn of the local police.

Officer Liston testified to searching a room on the second floor, but found no liquor.

Attorney Murphy asked for the discharge of the three defendants for reasons above stated, and the commissioner so ordered.

Richard Loeschner of Lawrence pleaded not guilty to a charge of sale and possession on July 3. His counsel asked that the case be dismissed on grounds that defendant has been ready for trial on three occasions and the government has not presented its witnesses. The commissioner would not agree to this, but promised a speedy hearing on October 5, to which date the case was continued.

Louis Charos and James Manousos, charged with conspiracy, were continued to October 10 for hearing.

John Rathgab, Lawrence, charged with the illegal possession and transportation of beer, was called and continued for hearing to October 7.

connection with the case. A second suspect was subjected to a severe grilling behind closed doors in the police station this morning, and it is felt that the mystery will be unraveled within a short time. Today's suspect told several conflicting stories to Capt. David Petrie and Sgt. Philip Dwyer, who brought him to the station about 5:30 o'clock on the suspicion that he might be able to throw some light on the matter. He remained in seclusion with the officers for almost three hours, but was not placed under arrest.

Jose F. Souza of 118 Lincoln street, who was arrested yesterday morning and held in $50,000 bonds on a complaint charging him with assault with intent to kill, is now a prisoner in the house of correction in East Cambridge where he will remain until his case is again called in the local district court.

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

Cod Liver Oil Full of Vitamines MAKES WEAK FOLKS STRONG

Everybody knows that nasty-tasting, evil-smelling Cod Liver Oil is chock-full of Vitamines and is a wonderful flesh producer and strength creator. But who wants to swallow the horrible stuff when these wonderful tablets—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—are just as good and so easy to take.

A box of 60 tablets for 60 cents—and if any thin man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days—money back. Ask Green's Drug Store, A. W. Doves & Co., Fred Howard or any good druggist anywhere.

"Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet."

"I have been taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets for two months and they have done wonders for me," David P. Woodburn, Oswego, N. Y.

"EXECUTIONS" CONTINUE IN BULGARIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 15.—The "executions" of members of the opposing sections of the Macedonian party in the reprisals growing out of the slaying of Todor Alexandroff are continuing.

News that a leading colleague of Alexandroff had been killed at Philippopolis arrived here while a great mourning parade in Alexandroff's memory was being held. It had such an effect that the stores and offices were hastily closed and the business life of the city completely suspended.

EVENING SOCIAL AT THE HIGHLAND CLUB

The first of the Friday Evening socials will be held this evening at the Highland Club hall in Princeton street. Dining will be in order from 8:30 until 12 with Leo Daly's orchestra furnishing the music. This orchestra is featuring all the latest and favorite dance hits for mah jong, ritz and collegiate numbers. The hall has been thoroughly cleaned and the dancing surface is in perfect condition. The management has set the admission at 50 cents and this popular price will prevail during the fall and winter season.

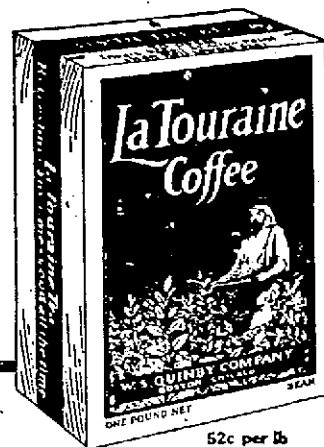

These affairs have appealed to the younger set of the city and in the past have attracted large gatherings. An evening of real pleasure is in store for those who attend this function. These parties will be conducted every Friday evening.

VIEW SITE OF PROPOSED BRIDGE

Members of the city council yesterday afternoon visited the site of the proposed bridge over Beaver Brook. A plan and profile are being made by the city engineer and the councilors wished to acquaint themselves with conditions under which the structure will be built. In the party were Councilors James J. Gallagher, Frederick A. Sadler, Daniel Cosgrove, Arthur Genest, David Dickson and John W. Daly. Building Inspector John E. Moynahan and School Committeeman Thomas B. Delaney also made the trip. The latter to make a view of land adjoining the Greenhalge and Varnum schools which it is proposed to seize for school purposes at a later date.

HELD ANNUAL SUPPER

The annual supper by the parishioners of St. John's Catholic mission in Chelmsford was held last evening in the town hall with a goodly number attending. A bountiful repast was served at six o'clock following which dancing was enjoyed in the upper hall. The dining room was prettily decorated in streamers of oak leaf red and pine tree green hung from a large centerpiece of the same color combination. Bouquets of red roses and asparagus fern decorated the tables. Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland was in charge of the decorations and she was assisted by several young lady members of the parish. Walter H. McMahon, Patrick Haley and Ephraim Ayotte took charge of the dance arrangements while the supper was served by Mrs. Daniel Haley and Mrs. George L. Vail assisted by the ladies of the Mission.

EX-MAYOR FITZGERALD KEYNOTER AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

To Call Democratic Session to Order—Chief Interest in Klan Issue—Republican Leaders Also Gather at Worcester for Convention

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 19.—With a multitude of planks to consider the resolutions committee of the state democratic party will begin its session at 3 o'clock this afternoon to prepare the platform to be presented to the state convention Saturday. Thomas F. Cassidy of Cheshire is chairman of the committee. Senator David I. Walsh, Mayor James M. Curley of Boston and ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston were expected early today to have a voice in the framing of the platform, chief interest in which centers around the attitude of the party on the Ku Klux Klan issue which provoked such sharp dispute at the national convention. Ex-

Mayor Fitzgerald will call the convention to order and deliver the keynote address.

G. O. P. Convention

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 19.—Republican leaders from all parts of Massachusetts arrived here this morning in preparation for the session of the resolutions committee headed by Congressman Allen T. Treadway, which will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon to consider planks for the party platform to be presented at the state convention Saturday. There will be a revival of the night-before gatherings of the party on the Ku Klux Klan issue tonight with a banquet by the Massachusetts Republican club at which

Governor Channing H. Cox, Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, President Frank G. Allen of the Massachusetts senate, Speaker Frederick H. Gillett of the national house and Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird will speak. A reception will follow.

THREATENED WIFE

Martin Soper was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction, in district court this morning, when he was found guilty of threatening his wife with a revolver. The wife stated that he had maltreated her on various occasions and had often made threats to kill her. Asked what he had done with the gun, Soper replied that he had lost it about a month ago, but the court ordered him to produce it as soon as possible.

FINED AND SENTENCED

James Ryan was found guilty of operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor and was fined $100 and given a direct sentence of 15 days in the house of correction, in district court this morning. He was also fined $5 for drunkenness and when appeals were taken in both instances, he was ordered to recognize in $400 for his appearance in superior court next month.

A version of the story of the flood is contained in the ancient books of the Nashi or Moso sect.

English Exterior Makes a Charming Home of the "Square" House

Who would suspect this interesting house of being our old stand-by, the "square" house, in a new dress?

If you will examine the plans, you will see that it is actually a 28x28 layout, but with considerably improved interior and exterior arrangement. Half-timbered stucco construction, with a steep roof, suggests the charm of English design.

There is a good attic which regulates the temperature of the house, both summer and winter, or which may be finished off into a bedroom and store-room with several closets, if necessary, as a stair is provided.

The arrangement of the stair in an ell off the main portion of the house permits a better use of the space for rooms. Most people like the side-hall plan, such as is used here, for the same reason.

There are six rooms, sleeping porch and bath, all of more than average size. Every room is provided with built-in features to make it attractive and comfortable. A hearth with an oak mantel, and near it a built-in bookcase, form an inviting part of the living room.

Under the double-window that lights the kitchen is the sink with two drainboards. One of the other desirable features of this pleasant "engine-room" is a wall-cabinet long-board that folds up when not in use. Note, too the handy little back porch, and the separate corner for the refrigerator.

It would be hard to imagine pleasant bedrooms, with their wealth of windows and many closets, in one a dressing table is built-in, between a hanging closet and a chiffonier-like tray case.

The corner porch is of course the chief feature which distinguishes this house from other square houses. The entire house, in the average community, should cost about $3350 to build, figuring at 30 cents a cubic foot.

Detailed plans and specifications of this home may be obtained at low cost by writing to the Home Plan Editor, The Lowell Sun.

One-fourth of the farms of America are not fit for cultivation, farm experts assert.

WHAT IS THE USE OF LIVING?

What is the use of living when a woman gets up in the morning as tired as when she went to bed at night with headache, backache, dragging-down pains, nervous, irritable and despondent? These are all symptoms of ailments peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a good old-fashioned remedy made from roots and herbs. LOWELL CASE IN

CAMBRIDGE COURT

In superior court at East Cambridge yesterday afternoon Cornelius F. Sullivan of Lowell pleaded guilty to operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and was fined $100. He asked three months in which to pay the fine, but the court refused and suggested he might work out the fine at the house of correction. This would mean a sentence of 300 days, however, and Sullivan was allowed a little time to make an effort to secure the money.

New England—and Beyond

OUR Company serves the telephone needs of five New England states; but we should serve them all if that service ceased at their boundaries.

As an integral part of the Bell System we are subject to no such limitation.

In this day of human progress, no land is sufficient to itself. New England, of which we are so proud, is not and cannot be a self-contained economic unit.

The productivity of her shops and mills outruns her need to consume. The wants of her high civilization are too complex for home supply.

Of such conditions Commerce is born—Commerce, with Transportation and Communication its handmaidens.

At the disposal of the New Englander who would buy or sell we place the telephone facilities of a continent.

Fields white with cotton. Fields yellow with grain. Treasure-houses of iron and copper and coal. Ranges where cattle feed. Forests of pine and fir and spruce. All send tribute to New England industry. All profit by New England skill.

With more than 15,000,000 Bell telephones at command, there is scarce a crossroad—much less a market-place where production and consumption meet—that we cannot reach with swift sure speech.

While New England is New England—a land of fathos and looms, of merchants and manufacturers—we know no corner of the Nation in which the Bell telephone slogan should have greater meaning.

and chat with Secretary Clark of Boston. Mr. Holt is a brother of former Secretary Willis S. Holt, of the club entertaining yesterday. The brothers are both conservation fans and ardent protectors of the fish and game laws of their respective states. The Monadnock club is doing work similar to that now being performed by the Lowell organization in this county.

The Sports Program
The drag hunt arranged as the leading feature of the afternoon's entertainment program, was successful beyond expectations. Richard Ely Danielson, Boston editor, who lives in Groton, brought his pack of English fox hounds to Willowdale to give the sportsmen a performance that thrilled. The scent was laid earlier in the day, and the run was made from Willowdale casino. The hounds followed the trail around the lake, crying in unison as they sped to the end where the scent was laid in the waters.

The sports program included pillow fights, ball-casting, shot-puts, broad jumping, boat races, a trap shoot and races for fat men and amateur athletes. The quail games were exciting. Among the "champion" ball-casters were Secretary Frederick W. Barrows, 125 feet; William O'Connell, 111 feet; 3 1/2 inches; Henry Elliott, 106 feet; 7 inches; William Barrows, 100 feet; 7 1/2 inches; 95 feet, 6 inches; Harold Stewart, 89 feet.

Daniel MacDonald won the 100-yard dash, James Clancy the 100-yard race for fat men, J. Ingalls won the shot-put with a toss of 29 feet, 1 inch; E. G. Haines captured first place in the boat race and Henry Savard is 1924 outing champion boat-racer.

President Burns directed the events at the traps. He also participated in a match with professionals being tied with Ray Richardson for first place with 24 targets out of a possible 25. In the handicap match, B. Buck scored a win, receiving a punch bowl as a prize. Others who captured prizes were F. Flint, G. C. Moore, George Buck, Burton Currier, Dr. Frank R. Brady, A. Sturtevant, W. Sturtevant and F. C. McKittrick.

The following were the committees directing the 1924 outing: William C. Purcell, chairman of general outing committee; reception committee, President Burns and all directors; catering, President Burns, Dr. F. R. Brady, R. Haynes, Dr. C. B. Livingston and Dudley L. Page; publicity, Secretary Barrows, A. W. David and W. J. Kilburn; sports, Arnold A. Byam, Earl Wilbur, John Kenefick, William Wood, H. Savard and H. Gonzales; prizes, Secretary Barrows, President Burns and Willis S. Holt; flags, Dr. Frank R. Brady; trapshoot, President J. E. Burns, H. Heynton, S. M. Simpson, L. Richardson, W. D. Caldwell, Dr. Brady and Martin Flaherty; transportation, A. A. Byam, Ray Egan, George Byam, S. J. Rigelow, Harry Pitts, M. E. Feindel and John Quinn.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any drugstore a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart of water right after eating. This drives the gas, wind and bloated right out of the body, sweetens the stomach, neutralizes the excess acid and prevents its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Adv

DISCUSSION OF EDSON SCHOOL PROBLEM

The Edson school matter was taken up at a meeting of the public property committee of the city council yesterday afternoon and Supt. Molloy was asked his opinion. He told of the survey that is now under way of school housing conditions and said that the report would be made at the November meeting of the school committee. "The thing necessary," he said, "is to see the real needs of school housing. The housing situation at the high school waited twelve years for relief. The present high school is large enough to accommodate 3000 pupils. It is not filled to capacity today. With the new building in use the high school situation can be put into the back of our minds for the next five or six years and the school housing question turns to the schools lower than the high school. The junior high schools, which are taking away the greater part of the high school freshman class, are more or less crowded and even though we did away with these schools, the grammar schools would be crowded.

"No man in my position," he said, "would advise the city to junk any school that is furnishing accommodations for a large number of pupils and I think the buildings should be put in the best possible condition."

Councillor Sadler asked if the Edson school matter was not the most important and Mr. Molloy's answer was "no." The councillor asked if the building had not been condemned. Mr. Molloy said he had never seen any report to this effect and the councillor replied that the city council has.

Mr. Delaney said that the school committee favored a new building. Mr. Molloy admitted this, but questioned its judgment and again objected to the erection of a new Edson school. Councillor Gallagher said he understood repairs could be effected for $8000.

Mr. Moynihan was called upon for his opinion and he said that after State Inspector Cobb had viewed the building and made recommendations for repairs, he and Contractor Meloy had gone over the building and the latter had estimated the cost of repair at between forty and fifty thousand dollars.

The matter was closed when Councillor Sadler moved that the building superintendent be instructed to have a survey made of the building by a disinterested party and a report made to the committee.

Mr. Gallagher moved that Councillor Genest be named a committee of one to interview Dr. Joseph Lamoureux and try to have him reconsider his decision to resign from the high school building commission. Councillor Genest amended the motion to read a committee of two, and it was carried. Counclors Genest and Gallagher were named.

Mr. Molloy asked that steps be taken to purchase the land already recommended for seizure at the Butler, Tenth street and Riverside schools. He also asked that the committee assist in securing the portable schools requested some time ago, and that the necessary steps be taken to seize land at the Greenhalge and Varnum schools for expansion purposes. The committee voted to communicate with the city solicitor regarding the first three items mentioned and to view the land near the Greenhalge and Varnum schools which it is desired to seize after the meeting. The meeting then adjourned at 2:40 o'clock.

THE FIRST STREET OVAL

Municipal Stadium Urged by Members of the City Council

To the end that the First Street oval property may be converted into a municipal stadium for athletic purposes, a committee from the city council last night conferred with the board of park commissioners and urged consideration of the idea.

Councillor John W. Daly, Attorney C. J. O'Neill and Smith J. Adams advocated the stadium idea, and asked the park commission whether or not it felt that there would be objection to a legislative enactment establishing a commission to take over the oval and build a city stadium. There was a long discussion of details and it was finally agreed that a month from now, at the next park commission meeting, an opinion on the matter would be ready. For the moment the park commission members were unwilling to agree or oppose the idea except that there were evidences of a belief in the commission that it would not be advisable to take any public playground for such a purpose.

A delegation of residents in upper Gorham street appeared before the commission requesting the use of park department bleachers on O'Donnell playground this fall for football games to be played there and the superintendent was instructed to place them there.

Councillor Eugene A. Fitzgerald discussed the proposed location of a cinder running track on the North common and a satisfactory location was agreed upon and the superintendent authorized to go ahead with the work.

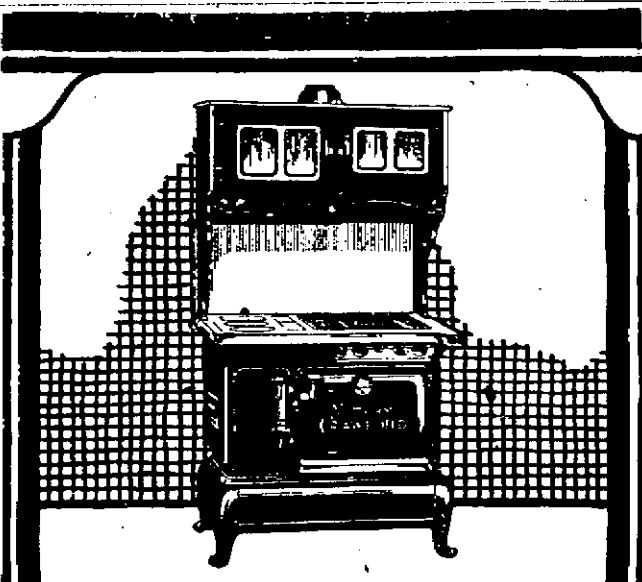

Supt. Kernan reported on the tree damage sustained in the wind storm in August. It was voted to send a letter to the mayor asking that the department has expended $5000 on this emergency and must spend $1000 more before conditions are brought back to normal and asking that the department be reimbursed.

It was voted to take by right of eminent domain the following lots in Gorham and other streets adjoining the O'Donnell playground at the values attached: Martin Roth, 6400 square feet, $400; Eliza Luz, 25,600 square feet, $1550; Mary E. Sullivan, 3200 square feet, $280; Patrick J. and Minnie Morris, 3200 square feet, $400; Mattie Jordan, 3200 square feet, $400; John S. Palm, 6400 square feet, $700; Mary J. Heardon, 3200 square feet, $400; Catherine Fitzpatrick, 3200 square feet, $200; Healee M. Gray, 3200 square feet, $200; Nora Dean, 6400 square feet, $500. These are all to be charged to the John J. O'Donnell playground loan.

BROTHER AND SISTER REUNITED

Richard Farmer of McKeesport, Pa., and his sister, Mrs. Mary F. Gannon of Lowell, were united a few days ago after a separation of 57 years. Mr. Farmer had become separated from his family when a young man and had come to McKeesport, Pa., where he has engaged in business. He had lost all track of his sister and had come to believe her dead. This summer Mr. Farmer made a trip to Europe and visited relatives in England and Scotland who told him that his sister was alive and resided in Lowell. On his return to the United States Mr. Farmer came directly to this city and found his sister living with her daughter, Mrs. Richard H. Arnold of 27 Princeton street. The reunion was an occasion of much rejoicing.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting and operations fail? Do you know the cause of piles is internal? That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel? Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet recently discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Green's drug store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—ADV.

Telephone Girl." This is not a serial, but every chapter is a distinct story in itself. The cast is almost the same as in "Lighting Blood," but Alberta Vaughan, chosen by H. C. Wittwer himself plays the title role.

Gene Stratton Porter's story, "The Girl of the Limberlost," is the added feature picture and has not lost any of its interest in the translation to the screen. Gloria Gray has the title role while Cullen Landis has the leading male role.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

There are more bow-legged actors on Broadway than any other place in the world, casting director at the Famous Players' Long Island studio, discovered while casting men to appear as lackeys, servants, guards, soldiers and courtiers in "Monsieur Beaucaire," the Paramount picture of Booth Tarkington's story, in which Rudolph Valentino has the title role. All the men in the picture wear knee-length silk breeches, for the story is laid in Louis XV's time, and bow-legs just do not look good in silk breeches.

Scenes of applicants' were looked over in an effort to find straight limbed men. All those with a slight crook at the knees were rejected. After much careful picking fifty men were found with legs suitable for the costumes.

"Monsieur Beaucaire," Valentino's first screen appearance since 1922, is completing a week's engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre. Featured in the strong supporting cast are Bebe Daniels, Lois Wilson, Doris Kenyon and Lowell Sherman.

E. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—The Village Lawyer," in which Cressy and Dayne appear at the E. F. Keith theatre, this week, is a humorous sketch dealing with rural life. It is splendidly played, Lynn and Howland, in a skit of repartee, stand up well with the headliner, and Thornton and Squires have a wholly delightful melange of music, dancing and comedy. Other acts on the bill are: Jean Leblond, xylophonist; Ward and Dooley, dancers, and the Three Lords, vocalists. The picture feature is "One Law for the Woman."

SEN. DAVID I. WALSH

Not to Conduct Independent Campaign As Alleged by Boston Paper

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The alleged "statement" of Senator David I. Walsh that he will conduct his own campaign for re-election this fall, independent of all other candidates, turns out not to have been a statement at all, but was rather a letter sent by him to a large number of his personal friends and supporters in former campaigns, and it contains no declaration of intention to ignore other democratic candidates.

"Just republican propaganda" is the way Senator Walsh characterized the article appearing in a Boston morning paper yesterday. He made it entirely clear that he intends to aid the entire democratic ticket to the best of his ability, and that he expects similar support from all other candidates.

"I am taking up the preliminary work of preparation for the campaign," the letter reads. "The party committees and clubs will devote their energies to the general work and to supplement their efforts and without interfering with their activities. I am interested in enlisting voluntary supporters throughout the state to rally to my candidacy the great body of its people whom I have sought to serve. Having in mind the helpful friendliness manifested by you in the past, I am presuming upon that spirit to ask you to constitute yourself a committee of one to spread my message."

"I shall base my appeal for support upon my public record. The people entrusted me with great power at their hands and I now aim to make report of my stewardship. The opportunity is welcomed. I should be judged and I am content to be judged upon my record."

"Because I know that I have striven to stand four square with the people of Massachusetts; because I have insisted upon protecting the unprotected; because I have striven against every effort of privilege and other sinister forces to encroach upon personal liberty, political rights and economic freedom, I enter this campaign with the confidence that is given by a just cause."

"But the confidence of duty done will not alone suffice. The truth must be known and I am calling upon each of you to assist me in placing before the electorate the record of my service so that every voter when he goes to the ballot box in November will know the facts. Upon the informed judgment of the men and women of Massachusetts we can confidently rely. It is because of my knowledge of your devotion to the things that I have stood for that I return to you to help me to carry on to triumph not merely for a personal victory but in vindication of what we deem to be vital principles of the common weal."

Senator Walsh has already signified his intention of co-operating with the state committee for the success of the democratic ticket.

FOR A WARLESS WORLD

It is now the intention of certain European powers to outlaw war by international decree. That was the original purpose of the League of Nations; but it was evidently thought impracticable when the United States refused to enter. Now, however, that we have agreed to enter the world court, the matter is again brought to the front. The world court had considered the proposition, but the subject is seriously taken up by the League of Nations.

Much depends upon the definition of an aggressor nation and now an agreement has been reached to accept the American definition of an aggressor, as a nation that refuses to submit its agreement with another to arbitration. On this basis a plan has been drafted for consideration by the assembly of the League of Nations. England has approved the proposition with certain reservations and France, it is expected, will welcome the proposition of war. Thus it appears that out of all the international jealousies and enmities, we may see evolved a plan for making this a warless world.

England, however, offers objection to the plan of compulsion, quite similar to our opposition to Article X of the League of Nations. She refuses to consent to have her navy drafted against any nation refusing to obey the mandate of the league; and so it is probable that a different arrangement may be reached that will meet the approval of all the signatory powers and appeal to the others that have not already entered the league.

It would be too much to expect the immediate success of any such scheme; but the fact that the leading powers of the world seem strongly in favor of it, is quite encouraging as foreshadowing the ultimate achievement of the end in view. If the other powers are earnestly in favor of such an extension of international arbitration and universal peace, then it is certain the United States cannot afford to stand outside the combination, despite the fact that its methods cannot be materially different from those of the League of Nations as originally planned.

It is alleged that manless airplanes and other inventions chiefly of a chemical nature would make war so destructive that it is not to be thought of. It would assuredly be a great step forward for the entire human race if destructive wars could be prohibited and all nations taught to settle their differences through an international tribunal of justice. It is the end through which all civilization moves.

PASS THE GOODING BILL

Chambers of commerce and newspapers in the western states, and notably the Spokesman's Review of Spokane, Wash., are conducting a vigorous campaign in favor of legislation that would protect the coast-to-coast traffic through the Panama Canal against railroad discrimination that would make it unprofitable and eventually cause it to suspend. The railroads want adequate steamship service to carry to the markets of the Atlantic seaboard their surplus of salmon, wool, lumber, hides, meats and other products of the farms and orchards, mines, forests and ranges. They want also an arrangement under which these steamships shall bring return cargoes of the manufactured products of the mills of New England, the iron of Pennsylvania and other products of the Atlantic seaboard.

The Gooding bill which passed the United States senate last May would insure the maintenance of this coast-to-coast service through the Panama canal. The measure was in charge of Congressman Winslow, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. It should be given a prompt hearing when congress convenes in December; but its fate depends very largely upon the attitude of Representative Winslow, who has thus far shown little interest in the measure and his indifference in this respect has rather alarmed the advocates of the measure in the western states.

If the bill were enacted, it would prevent the transcontinental railroads from running the coast-to-coast steamship service out of business by their old tactics of slashing freight rates at the Pacific coast terminals and thus taking from the boats enough tonnage to make the service through the canal unprofitable. It will be remembered that these transcontinental railroads fought the building of the canal and they are now opposed to its commercial success so far as that affects their interests. This service if maintained, as provided for in the Gooding bill, would keep up a continuous interchange of commodities between the Atlantic coast and the harbors of the Pacific. It would serve the double purpose of offering some competition to the west, many of whom cannot afford to pay the freight, to send their products by rail to the nearest markets. This coast-to-coast service would be equally advantageous to the manufacturers of New England as the steamship service via the Panama canal would carry many of our manufactured products to the Pacific coast at a much lower rate than would the railroads. At the present time it costs $650 to ship a car of lumber from California to New York. The cost of transportation via the coast-to-coast service would undoubtedly be much less, although the exact figures are not available. It would seem, therefore, that the best interests of New England would best be served by the enactment of the Gooding bill and it is, therefore, in order to find just what Congressman Winslow intends to do about the matter at the short session of congress in December. There should be no delay in the enactment of the bill as it is one of the necessary steps for the improvement of our domestic commerce and the necessary interchange between the Atlantic and Pacific ports.

The Gooding bill would so modify the transportation act as to prevent this unfair discrimination against water competition. The plan of the railroads is to charge less for a long haul than for a short haul in order to defeat water competition. This practice, if permitted, would of course make the steamship service through the Panama canal entirely unprofitable. It remains for congress, therefore, to provide the steps necessary for the protection of this service so essential to the commercial interests of both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard.

Speaker Gillett shifted balls on the prohibitory question when he became a candidate for senator. With suddenness, he became a bone-dry for which he was criticized by Congressman Dillingham for apparent political maneuvering to catch votes.

Mayor Curley's avenging Nemesis, John H. Murphy, is on the verge of the result that some unpleasant reminiscences may be indulged on both sides before the polls close on November 4.

Officer Conway's vigilance in taking the number of a truck that crossed his beat in the early morning is to be commended. He furnished the key that led to the arrest of the man suspected of having shot Peabody.

Darrow will now be in great demand to have young criminals freed from the death penalty, but Judge Caverly will not preside at any more murder trials.

New if some woman who is a good talker will enter the mayoralty contest and tell some of the other candidates what she thinks of them, we shall have an election of real interest.

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, the Chinese are planning another war; either that or just an encore to the last civil war.

The only nice thing about civil war in China is the thing is as far from the United States as you can go.

Trouble in Mexico. Bandits hithering Americans. We hold Americans wanting to be robbed should give their trade to American bandits.

A Thought

I wasted time, and now doth time waste me.—Shakespeare.

Not Her Pickin'

"Edith," said a mother to her little daughter, "you ought to be ashamed to speak to your father so impudently. I am sure you never heard me talk to him in that manner." "No," replied the rebellious infant, "but you choose him and I didn't."

From His Turn

A woman wanted to show her Chinese servant the correct way to be a house visitor, and one afternoon went out to her front door, rang the bell, and made the man usher her into the drawing room. The following afternoon the bell rang, and not hearing him answer it, she went to the door herself. To her surprise, he was standing waiting outside. "Why, Sing, what are you doing here?" she asked. "You fool me yesterday—I fool you today," was the reply.

Annabel Lee

Doing short of copy, a Florida editor took down a volume of poems and copied "Annabel Lee." This he hung on the hook and took his departure. His writing was so bad that his commentators had to call a consultation. They made out the words "Annabel Lee" and "home by the sounding sea." These words were all they could decipher. "I guess it's a society item," decided the foreman. "Just say Miss Annabel Lee has returned to her home at West Palm Beach."

Good Story Anyway

A man who had amassed a fortune by his own efforts liked to annoy his creditors' acquaintances about his wealth. One day he was asked to go to a dinner at a friend's house. He was sure to tell the following story: "I never learned to read or write until I was 21. My principal garment up to the age of 12 was a coffee bag. Down in the mountains where I was raised, a brand popular in those days was triple X, and you can see a triple X across my shoulders to this day."

Waiting for a Thrill

A negro boy, a regular visitor to a certain library, was noticed by the attendant always to take the same book, open it eagerly at the same place and then laugh heartily. The attendant's curiosity being aroused, he followed the boy one day and saw him open the book. Finding it was a novel, he noticed the picture of a small boy being chased by a snoring bull. The attendant was about to ask what there was to laugh at when the negro chuckled: "Golly, 'e ain't caught 'im yet!"

The Candidate

And now the smiling candidate His hopeful plea presents, And tells us gladly who he is And what he has to say. He shows us that the future will Be very dark and dim, And everything will go askew Unless we vote for him.

At times he grows quite eloquent In talking of himself. He shows you what a shame 't would be To put him on the shelf. Not by ambition is he moved— That must be understood— But he will sacrifice himself Just for his country's good.

And oh, what promises he makes! What wondrous things he'll do! He'll bring on the millennium. If you will put him through! And so he goes on day by day His virtues to extol, While you absorb his eloquence With several grains of salt!

—SOMERVILLE JOURNAL.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is much speculation among the people of Cosgrove and upper Gorham streets as to the intentions of the street department in regard to the paving of Cosgrove street. For the past several weeks, Gorham street has been under repair and the workmen have been using the material taken from Gorham street and paving the side streets. Several streets hitherto dirt covered are now well covered with a hard, fine appearing surface. Bowden and Corbett sts. on each side of Cosgrove were both repaired. The men started work on Cosgrove street but after half completing the job stopped for the lack of material. People living in the street are beginning to wonder if the work is to be left unfinished. As it is now the lower half of the street is well paved while the upper half, the part next Gorham street is in bad condition.

In taking the number of a suspicious automobile that later turned out to belong to an alleged criminal, and which resulted in his arrest on a serious charge, Police Officer William E. J. Conway is deserving of much praise and is being congratulated by his fellow officers at the first officers' meeting. The officer was patrolling his beat in the Highlands section early Thursday morning when he noticed the suspicious looking machine speeding along the road. He promptly took the registration number and reported the incident to his superior at the station. The number was traced and the man believed to have been responsible for the arrest.

BAR "TRICK" FLYING OVER CROWDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Regulations to guard the safety of fliers as well as persons and property, underlying them are embodied in new sections of the American Aeronautics safety code announced yesterday by the bureau of standards of the department of commerce. The new sections of the code, which is being prepared under the auspices of the bureau and the Society of Automotive Engineers by experts representing "all interests in aircraft development, deal with traffic and pilotage rules, qualifications for airman and parachutes.

One of the regulations would forbid "trick" flying over crowds or thickly populated districts at any altitude, unless authorized by written permit and under proper safeguards for spectators and property. To insure a safe coasting radius for airman in case of engine trouble, aircraft would not be permitted to descend to an altitude of less than 1500 feet over cities two miles in width, while for cities 10 miles wide a minimum altitude of nearly a mile is prescribed.

Where rivers, canals, parkways or other areas permitting a landing would be damaged by other persons or property are followed, lower altitudes of flight would be allowed.

One of the traffic provisions gives right of way to airplanes over balloons, while both must give way to balloons. Passing from behind should be to the right, with passing by diving or rising forbidden. The code prescribes physical tests for those seeking license as commercial pilots, with periodic re-examination, and also that the airman have a working knowledge of meteorology.

BACHELOR PARTY

A very pleasant bachelor party was given last evening at the Twin Pine cottage at Lakeview to Mr. Harry Mauss by a number of his friends. There were musical numbers by Joseph Donohue and Ralph Bell, local entertainers; Joseph Lewis and Edward Jennings of Boston; a very pleasing duet by William Hanning and John Maynard; and a very original and humorous Charles Slattery. Thomas McElmott, soft shoe and clog dancing by Charles Brown and James Ready. Mr. Mauss gave a presentation of a very beautiful chair, the presentation being made by Samuel Scott. The evening was pleasantly finished by a chicken supper, furnished by Harvey the caterer.

A good lying man usually has a long body, rather wide across the wing part.

Responsible for a daring holdup was placed under arrest. But for Officer Conway's act, the suspect might still be at large.

Nobody ever said that Ray Stanton wasn't a pretty good automobile salesman, but as a poultry raiser he's a silver Roland. McAllister will bear witness to that. Neighbors in business, they were discussing the high price of eggs the other day when Stanton said "Mac" at his best brought a dozen or more hens but they hadn't laid an egg in the two weeks he'd had them. He had been feeding them high and with a free hand, but they refused to produce.

Mac admitted he was somewhat of a poultry fancier, himself and couldn't understand what was wrong. He drove up with Ray to look at them. One look was enough, Ray had roosters—a dozen of them.

One of the greatest handicaps met with by boys who are anxious to play with the high school football squad when they ask their parents' permission to play, is the question, "Who will pay your bills if you are hurt while practicing with the squad or playing with the team?" High school athletic authorities realize this and it is said by them that steps should be taken to provide insurance for the players. Nothing has been done officially to provide insurance but it is rumored that definite action towards providing insurance will be taken in the near future.

The League of Catholic Women which suspended the regular business meetings during the summer months will hold the first meeting of the fall-winter season Sunday afternoon, Oct. 13, at 3 o'clock in the evening. The league plans an extensive program this year, included in which will be a Yuletide and a May party, two novel entertainments which will undoubtedly prove successful. The mission and the informal religious conducted last year were most entertaining and indications point to an interesting and enjoyable season this year.

The Middlesex Women's club which opened on the Monday October 14th has its members an extensive and enjoyable program which will include lectures, entertainments and musicales. This organization, always most successful, endeavors to furnish the members with varied programs in which prominent artists and speakers figure.

The Educational club, under the presidency of Mrs. W. Jessop, will hold its first meeting of the season the first Tuesday in October which day will be observed as Tea Day. A fine program will be given and a glass of business will be presented at the first business meeting of the 1924-25 club year.

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

Friends

How many friends have you really got, you, how many friends do you know? Just how do you tell just who is, or not, and how does real friendship grow?

A fellow will claim he's a friend of yours' and his greeting for you is a smile. He feels that that one little thing assures that he is a friend worth while.

You only may see him when things are okch and you carry no troubles to sift. But supposin' things olunge on the very next day; is he ready to give you a lift?

Expressions of sympathy; loans, now and then, will often give folks a new start. A friend sets you pluggin' all over again when your own backing hasn't the heart.

The answer to friendship is simple, at best: it's something that's easy to sum. I'll hang to the fellow, and pass all the rest, who's for me whatever may come.

DANCE BY RICARD'S BELMONT'S TONIGHT

The miller city "play ball" to which Ricard's Belmonts responded many times during the past season will be replaced for this evening by another well known expression, "On with the dance," for tonight the ball players from the house of Ricard are to conduct a dancing party at the Commodore Ballroom, on Thorndike street just above the South common scene of many of their diamond conquests.

A feature of tonight's party will be the awarding of two loving cups, one for a prize waits and the other in the fox trot. Four competent judges have been selected to pick the winners. Almer Doyle's orchestra will be on hand to despatch music.

That the solution of the mystery was at hand. Following a conference between Inspector John Coughlin and Miss Irene

Flaherty, secretary to Miss Bobe, the inspector prophesied an arrest would be made soon that would end the search for the robbers. He would not say whether Miss Flaherty had furnished him with a list of the guests at Miss Bobe's birthday party Saturday night. It was at this party, which was said to have been attended by many of Broadway's celebrities, that police believe bandits secured information enabling them to plan the hold-up.

They have expressed the belief that one or more of them gained access to the party disguised as a guest while the celebration was at its height. It was also learned that police officials attach little importance to the two arrests already made in the case. The police place no credence in the suggestion, made by the district attorney's office, that Montague Pike, arrested Wednesday night after he had asked Miss Flaherty for $400 for information concerning the disposition of the stolen jewels, was connected with the crime. It was said.

The other prisoner, David Gleason, who insisted that he was one of the four bandits, told such a conflicting story that his confession was snatched by the detectives. Nevertheless he was held on a charge of petit larceny and will be subjected to an exhaustive questioning at headquarters today.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know, when and where their patronage is welcome.

IMPORTANT GAMES TODAY IN NECK AND NECK PENNANT RACES

New York Yankees Tackle Snarling Tigers In Detroit— Pirates and Dodgers Play Leading Role In Drama In Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press) A snarling tiger crouches low in his western cave today, awaiting the invasion of a Yankee foe. His tall bandaged thrice from Quaker wounds, his paw zealously guarding a frail pennant thread already worn almost beyond repair, the Bengal will fight for the honor of the west.

A similar scene will be enacted on the Atlantic seaboard today when Pittsburgh and Brooklyn will play the leading role in a drama which will be fragile to one or the other.

Washington and New York, in full view of the wire, are staging a mad dash down the American League stretch at breakneck speed. Detroit is struggling to keep up but slowly its cause is becoming hopeless. It must squeak a Yankee invader or accept defeat. Just as merciless is the pace which is being set in the National league. New York, with Brooklyn right on its heels, half a length behind, is exhausted by the dizzy pace. The Giants yesterday had their half-parted by the Cincinnati Reds, dividing a double header, losing the first game, 5 to 3, but coming under the wire first in the nightcap, 7-5. Brooklyn, battling frantically to overtake that meagre lead gained by the Giants, advanced to within a half a game of the 1923 champions by winning twice from St. Louis, 7 to 5 and 4 to 2. Pittsburgh today still two and a half games behind the lead, was only able to break even with the Phillies yesterday, dropping the first section of its double header, 6 to 5, but winning the second, 6 to 3.

Chicago and Boston, both hopelessly out of the swim, split even in their two sessions, the Cubs yanking the first game out of the first in 11 innings, 4 to 3, but the Braves coping the concluding act, 3 to 1.

New York Yankee fans are thanking Joe Bush for a victory in St. Louis yesterday. The Yankees drove into the ninth inning, trailing by a lone tally when Bush slapped a home run on one of Whizard's scattered hits and knotted the game, the easterners emerging victorious in the first extra inning, 2 to 1.

Washington made it three straight from Cleveland by winning the final game of the series, 7 to 5. The Philadelphia Athletics almost ironed out the Detroit cause by winning a third straight victory from the Bengals, 6 to 3. In the other American league game the Chicago White Sox topped the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 3.

The complexion of both races is likely to undergo decided change after the series at Detroit and Brooklyn are completed. One or the other in each series must totter. Water eventually finds its proper level and the 1924 races will prove no exception.

SEMI-FINALS AT FRENCH LICK, IND.

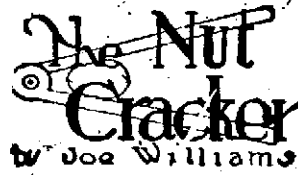

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press) Walter Hagen, New York, British open champion, playing today for Philadelphia, defeated a new comer in championship golf, and Jim Barnes of New York, formerly national open champion, who matched his skill with Larry Nabholz, Lima, O., another youngster, made up the two semi-final matches in the national professional golf championship at French Lick today.

VESPER AND MERRIMACK VALLEY CLUBS UNITE

The Merrimack Valley Country club in Methuen announces an open amateur golf tournament under the auspices of the M. G. A., on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 26, 27. On these same days the Vesper Country club also will hold its annual, fall, open tournament and to a degree the two clubs will work in unison. They plan to unite in giving prizes for the best gross and best net scores over a combined 36-hole stretch, 18 at Vesper and 18 at Merrimack Valley. No extra fee will be asked for this special event.

The Merrimack Valley tournament will feature two gross and two net prizes and two prizes for the best selected nine in 18 holes of play.

Scientific Jottings

The man had just dropped from the eaves of a three-story dwelling, landing softly, albeit rather awkwardly, on his skull.

"Are you injured, my good man?" inquired Mr. O'Goofy.

"Quick as a flash the poor wretch murmured, 'I do not wish to deceive you, sir, I am.'"

Now here's where the kick comes in. Clearing his throat with an ordinary kitchen mop and fixing the fallen stranger with a humorous eye, Mr. O'Goofy said: "If serves you right, you eaves dropper."

"We don't see why Leonard's broken hand should stop the fight with Walker."

"It has been our observation that modern prize-fighters never use their hands anyway."

Company is going to wait until he finishes fighting before he gets married.

This is reversing the usual American custom.

But he did not kiss any of his American currency goodby.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The Butler A. A. Seconds have organized for the season with a greatly strengthened line. The Butlers now boast of one of the strongest eleven in or around the Spindle City.

Leroy McMahon has been selected to coach the team and under his direction it is expected, a successful year is in prospect.

Mr. R. O'Malley, a popular young fellow from the Upper Gosham street district is to manage the team. He has had experience along this line and feels that his team will come through successfully.

The Ponies Seconds will play the Cadets Thirds on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the Lakeview ave. grounds. The following men are requested to report for final instructions and practice tonight at 8 o'clock: G. Knight, J. Allan, M. Carroll, Prue.

TO ORGANIZE CITY MINOR BOWLING LEAGUE

With various baseball leagues functioning here successfully during the summer months, plans to continue athletic activities during the winter season are under way. There were more leagues on the diamond the past season than ever before and all enjoyed success.

With the colder weather approaching, several men who piloted ball teams are planning to shift their attention to bowling and already a movement is under way to revive the City Minor league, one of the most successful organizations ever operated in Lowell.

And as might be expected, among the first to signify their intentions of entering this organization are several managers of ball teams. Tom Fleming, manager of the Bellows, winners of the City Twilight league pennant; John Peters, sponsor of Marie's Americans, also of the City league; Bert Dixon, live-wire pilot of the Dixon Shoe Fix team and several others are ready to shift their activities from bats and balls to the hickory pins. In all ten teams are expected to make up this league. With four in six more are needed. All must not necessarily be "backslab-bowling" teams. Any strong team is eligible.

While the rivalry that sprung up on the diamond will be carried to the alleys, an additional incentive is planned. If ten teams are secured $200 in prizes will be awarded. The headquarters of the league will be the Crescent alleys, Hurd street. All teams interested are urged to get in touch with the alley management as soon as possible.

The Crescent management looks for a very busy season and has put everything in readiness to accommodate its patrons. With the price of bowling two strings for a quarter an increase in business is already noted. In the basement where there are eight alleys strictly private for ladies and their escorts' heavy bookings for the season are reported.

Roller skating is enjoying much success at the Crescent rink. Sessions are held every evening except Tuesday, with a special matinee on Saturday afternoon.

TWO DAILY PRACTICE SESSIONS AT TEXTILE

Morning and afternoon practice sessions were ordered yesterday for the Lowell Textile school football squad in an effort to whip the team into shape for the first game of the schedule, which comes one week from Saturday with Bates. Five new men reported to the squad yesterday, including Bentley, last year's centre. He weighs 220 pounds and looks fit for a hard campaign. Coaches Cawley and Perry have increased the severity of the limbering-up program and the conditioning process will go on at high speed for another full week.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Fenwicks A. A. will play the Young Eagles Saturday on the North common.

NEW FOOTBALL ERA ABOUT TO DAWN AT LOWELL HIGH

Big Squad and Augmented Coaching Staff Point to Best Season in Many Years—New Assistant Coach, Al Pierotti, Arrives to Take Over Instruction of Line Men

Last spring Lowell high school entered a new era in track athletics and it now looks as if the football situation has reached the turn in the road and is ready to do an about-face and make progress along the highway of prestige and victory.

Never in the history of the school has such a large squad as the one of this year given proof of early-season interest. It is a well equipped squad, too, and the boys seem satisfied with conditions and ready to believe that everything is being done for their comfort.

Yesterday afternoon the coaching staff was augmented by Al Pierotti, of Everett who has signed a contract as assistant coach for a period of ten weeks and will work shoulder to shoulder with Head Coach Jim Linton to pull the local football situation up on to its feet. Pierotti should be of great assistance and help. He knows the game in all its fundamentals and features and will take over the line candidates for special instruction. Pierotti went to work soon after he arrived at Alumn Field yesterday and for more than two hours between 30 and 40 boys of husky type and build listened eagerly to his instructions and explanations of the intricacies of proper line play.

Yesterday's total squad numbered 60, or more than five full elevens. They were grouped to allow Faculty Manager James P. Conway to introduce Coach Pierotti who spoke briefly on the cardinal requisite of "right" and asked for individual effort and cooperation from every lad in the field. After a word from Coach Linton, it was back to work.

While Pierotti took the line candidates to one side of the field Linton had the backs and ends on the opposite side of the gridiron. Practice was relentless, there were no rest periods, no fooling or horse-play. It was real work and a lot of it and that is to be the daily program from now on.

The squad as a whole shapes up well and is of superb calibre. A number of the rangy type of boy are out for the team and there seems to be plenty of weight and speed. No one is sure of his job and the policy of not naming the starting team until game time will keep every man on his toes.

One of the features of yesterday's practice was the kicking of Fred Vinal who is being groomed for a back-field position. He is tall and fast and weighs close to 200 pounds. Spinning kicks of 45 and 50 yards were sent booming down the field by his right foot yesterday and Coach Linton will make every effort to develop him into a triple threat man. Gibson and Capt. Frank Heron also will qualify as kickers.

There just has been finished at Alumn Field a special dressing room for coaches, with shower bath and toilet. It is apart from the dressing rooms and is a much appreciated addition to the field equipment.

Just a word about the new assistant coach, Al Pierotti. Everett high school from 1910 to 1913, inclusive, and was picked as all-intercollegiate center. It still is said at Everett that he is the best football player ever turned out at the school. He entered Washington & Lee university and in his first year of college football won All-Southern honors. He was picked as All-Eastern center in 1915 and as All-American center in 1916 and 1917. In his last year he was captain of the eleven. Pierotti coached Revere high school in 1918 and in 1919 and 1920 coached and captained the Cleveland Professionals. In 1921, 1922 and 1923 he played throughout the seasons with the Milwaukee Badgers, at that time considered the greatest aggregation of football men in the country.

In addition to football, Pierotti also starred in baseball and basketball and was captain of the Washington & Lee basketball team in 1915 when it won the southern championship. He played college baseball for four years and in 1920 joined the Boston National league team. This past summer he has pitched for the Lawrence Independents in the Greater-Boston Twilight league.

RECORDS AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 19.—Starting in a special event arranged to beat the world's trotting race record of 2:01 1/4, the bay mare Tillie Brooke, driven by Tom Murphy and undefeated this season, yesterday won over her stablemate, Mrs. Yerkes at Fort Miami park, trotting the first heat in 1:59 and the second in 2:01 1/4.

Tillie Brooke not only beat the race record, but also the record for two heats. In the first heat she went to the half in 1:00 and the three-quarters in 1:29 1/2, then trotting the final quarter in 29 1/2 and the mile in 1:59 flat.

Tillie led all the way in both heats, Mrs. Yerkes being lengthwise in the rear in the first one, but trotting in 2:02 1/2 in the final.

Previous race record of 2:01 1/4 was made at North Randall in 1909 by Hamburg Belle in a match race with Uhlman. The race yesterday also established a new world's record for the previous record made by Hamburg Belle, her time being 2:01 1/4 and 2:01 1/4.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 4

In place of another roar the mother tiger slipped down on her side and started to whine. Of course Jack forgot all about the tiger being a dangerous wild animal and he immediately wanted to set her free. Just at that moment the native guide came upon the scene. He smiled at Jack.

"I just thought maybe you would run into this tiger's territory," said the guide, "so I set that trap. That mother tiger guards over her little ones and is liable to harm you if she thinks her cubs are in danger." Then he told Jack to step back while he unlocked the trap and freed the tiger.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"I DON'T CARE," SAID MRS. WOODCHUCK, "WALLY'S NEW SUIT HAS SHRUNK."

One day Mrs. Woodchuck came waddling into Nancy, Nick & Company's store and asked if Mister Snip Snap, the fairymen, was there.

"Yes, madam," said Nick politely. "Please sit down and I'll call him."

So Mrs. Woodchuck sat down, but she kept tapping her foot on the floor, and that showed that she must be pretty much upset about something.

"How do you do, Mrs. Woodchuck," said Mister Snip Snap, coming from the back of the store where he had been making a pair of pink pajamas for Mister Kingtail Coon.

"Well, I don't do as you do," said Mrs. Woodchuck crossly. "I don't sell people clothes that shrink."

"Why, Mrs. Woodchuck," said Mister Snip Snap. "I never did such a thing in my life. I wouldn't do such a thing. You can ask Mrs. Frog and Mrs. Turtle. They ought to know, for their children are always in the water."

"I don't care," said Mrs. Woodchuck. "Wally's new suit has shrunk so that it won't button on him at all. The buttons are about two inches away from the buttonholes."

"That's very queer," said Nancy, "because it did fit him just fine the day you bought it."

"Well, we like our customers to be satisfied," said Mister Snip Snap.

SERVICE BOARD UP ALL NIGHT

Departmental Superintendent and Clerk Unable to Give Desired Cost Figures

Dissatisfied With Figures Pre- pared They Spend Night Going Through Books

Order Hearing Into Charge That Laborers Sold Dynamite Owned By City

The public service board yesterday afternoon opened bids for the construction of a new bridge over the railroad at Wilder street, held action on the award of the contract in abeyance. Investigated reports that city laborers were selling dynamite belonging to the city, voted to have a public hearing for the involved men next Monday afternoon, and then spent the rest of the night delving into departmental books in an endeavor to find out street paving costs that were not obtainable from the superintendent or chief clerk of the department. The reason for this renewed interest in cost statistics is that the board has been requested to appear before the city council tonight and talk over departmental finances.

All three members of the board, Dennis J. Murphy, Frederick F. Meloy and Fred C. Leary, yesterday afternoon admitted that in the past several months they have been unable to obtain accurate data as to departmental finances. Figures provided by Chief Clerk Tuttle of the department were challenged by City Engineer Kennedy who said $34,000 of a $120,000 appropriation was unaccounted for in the tabulation. The board agreed this was so and unable to satisfactorily account for it they took over the task of going through the books themselves.

Mr. Meloy Disturbed
Frederick F. Meloy, member of the board who has just returned from his vacation to find the board involved in this latest imbroglio under the present administration was wrought up about affairs.

"I'll stay here all night to get these figures," he declared. "And if I don't get the figures I want, I'll appear before the council. I have a reputation in this town, built up by years of hard work in the contracting business. If I can't know costs in my business, I'll know them here and if I can't get them here to go before the council tomorrow night, I'll resign this job. I for one will not go in there unless I know what I'm talking about."

Wilder Street Bridge Bids
Bids on the Wilder street bridge job, opened at the start of the meeting, were as follows: Burton H. Wiggins Co., $244; Zol A. Houle, $230; Engineering Service and Construction Co., $225; Thomas W. Johnson & Co., $220; Michael J. Henson, a local builder, appeared before the board in response to a letter from the chairman. Questioned as to whether he purchased dynamite belonging to the city, the builder replied in the affirmative and produced receipts, one on a street department form bearing the signature of Michael McDermott. Papers purporting to be receipts signed by Robert W. Murphy and this same McDermott, for laborers, for work in constructing a garage for Henson at 154 Fletcher street were also shown the board. Chairman Murphy said that while nearly $200 worth of dynamite had been purchased by Henson, it had been turned in to the city treasurer. Further, he said, it is a rule of the board that no sales be made to private individuals or businesses.

Doherty Cui Short
Supt. Doherty said he did not learn of the sales until they were called to his attention through Storekeeper Burns but that all the dynamite taken had been restored and he thought everything should be dropped. Chairman Murphy asked him if he missed the dynamite in the first place and he said he did not know how much was in the magazine and so could not miss it.

"How do you know any was returned?" asked Mr. Murphy.
"Because Burns checked it in, stick for stick and it's all back," said the superintendent.
"Do you know how much dynamite is in the magazine at the present time?" asked the chairman.
"No, I don't."
"Well then keep out of this. You don't know what you're talking about."

Hired Cement Mixer, Too
Henson said further that he had a cement mixer belonging to the city that had been on the job for two weeks and that he had agreed to pay $2 a day for its use. He had used it two days so far he said and was to pay only for the days it was used. Supt. Doherty, asked what he knew about that, said he had let Murphy and McDermott take the mixer.
"They said they'd get $5 a day for it, not $2," said Doherty. "I told them not to get cash but let Henson pay us in dynamite."
Henson further testified that Murphy and McDermott worked for him between 4 and 8 o'clock every afternoon blasting for a period of several weeks. The time sheets of the department showed the men paid as working until 4:30 o'clock each day for the month.

ST. SAY 200 TO 300 PERSONS KILLED IN JADDAH

PORT SUDAN, Sept. 19.—The position at Jeddah is unchanged and the Wahabite invaders have made no further advance from Taif. Refugees who are arriving at Jeddah in large numbers from Taif say the town there was much shooting and pillaging. The number of deaths has not been ascertained but will possibly reach 200 or 300, mostly residents of Mecca, which is sixty miles from Taif.

Revolt Called Great Disaster

defending force head characterized the revolt as a "great disaster" brought about by "barbarism and treachery" but refused to concede defeat although he has offered to step down as military governor of Chekiang province in order to restore harmony in his lines.

The revolting armies were reported parading at Hangchow and Ningpo today carrying banners declaring allegiance to the invading Kiangsu forces. The telegraph lines were in possession of the revolutionary forces, but there was no evidence of a nearer approach of the Kiangsu army towards Shanghai.

General Lu's difficulty is an advantage for the central government at Peking which is supporting the invading forces. Defeat or retirement of the Chekiang military head would be a blow to General Chang.

Ministerial war lord, and Dr. Sun Yat-sen, head of the government of South China, who opposed the central government.

Possession of Shanghai by the government forces from Kiangsu province would give the Peking government control of this gateway city and increase the power of the central administration.

Officers at the Lungwha headquarters of the defending forces, in a statement issued today, said the revolt of the third army at Hangchow, does not mean the utter defeat of the defending forces. They expressed confidence in a considerable number of the troops remaining in Chekiang.

During 1923 more than 40,000 miles of hard surface road were built in the United States.

Girl Leaps From Taxi

today on technical complaint of assault and battery, following the death at Rehoboth early today of Mrs. Carrie Dragon, said to be proprietor of a motor inn at Hackett, Mass. Hearing was set for Sept. 26.

Dragon is married and is a stationery engineer. According to stories told by him to the state police he and Mrs. Dragon were returning from Middleboro, in a taxi, when they had a dispute in consequence of his missing $100. He says that the woman jumped from the machine, striking on her head, dying almost instantly. He was arrested some hours afterward near the scene of the tragedy. The taxi, it is said, had been spending the evening in a taxi ride which had started at Woonsocket, R. I. They had dined at the Middleboro road house. Both had been drinking, according to the police. Dragon was intoxicated when he started. The automobile belonged to the Ayotte Taxi Service of Woonsocket. The driver was Edmund E. Pettipas of Woonsocket. The arrest was made by state police officers.

Card. O'Connell Papal Legate

reading of the pope's letter and Cardinal O'Connell's address. Amid profound silence, His Eminence arose and read the pontifical dispatch.

"Blessed is that people among whom is held in the highest honor and in public devotion the Holy Name," the message said, "for surely that people will be enriched by celestial favors and will progress prosperously along the road of happiness."

"Now, of our nation these things may be truly said, since from the time the confederally of the Holy Name was established and propagated throughout America, chiefly through the zeal of the sons of St. Dominic, it has brought in its wake signal blessings both to the Catholic religion and to the civil welfare of the country."

"By stimulating the men of the country to the practice of virtue, by sanctifying the Christian family by establishing the principles of justice and peace this confraternity has contributed to those elements of moral life which redound to the strength and beauty of our nation."

Adding that no more beautiful sight exists than that of the "immense multitudes of consecrated mankind" bearing public testimony of their faith, the letter said to wonder was felt at the Vatican for the "extraordinary interest in all processes of the counter in the establishment of this confraternity, on the part of all American bishops."

Reunion of Christian Mankind
"We have no doubt," the pontifical message continued, "that the convention held in the capital city of your nation, in the presence of cardinals, archbishops and bishops and witnessed by a large gathering of the members of this society, will become a famous reunion of Christian mankind and will redound to the greater glory of God and to the welfare of the country x x x."

"In order, therefore, that this happy event may bring forth in the souls of all worthy fruit, we grant to you, our beloved son, the privilege of absolving those present in the name and of proclaiming plenary indulgence on the most solemn day of the reunion, under the usual forms and conditions."

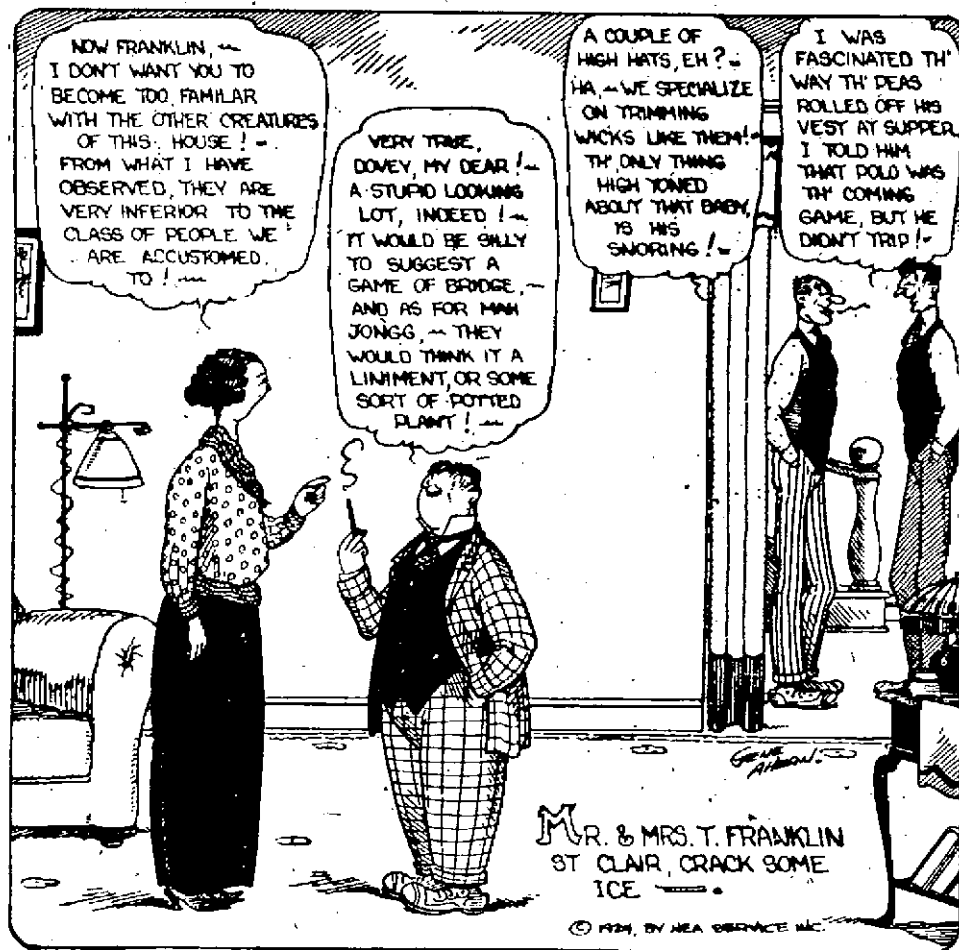

A blessing also was imparted in the letter to all those who have given their aid to this important work of the convention and "likewise to the whole people of America."

A letter then read from Cardinal Boglanti, protector of the Holy Name societies throughout the world, reviewed with praise the activities of the confraternity.

Cardinal O'Connell then delivered his address in which he dwelt upon the pope's love for America and his recognition of its contributions to the welfare of the world. By sending to this convention his personal representative, the Cardinal said, the pope was encouraging all to greater devotion and zeal.

The Cardinal reviewed the objects of the societies and Christianity's part in the history of the world. Respect for authority and obedience being the first principles of Christianity, the cardinal said, through the Holy Name societies, "America has a great army in battle array, strong with the strength of God who in every line of national stress and strain may be entirely depended upon as a bulwark against anarchy, disloyalty and disorder, which, whenever they appear, menace the very foundations of national and international peace and prosperity."

"And here," the Cardinal continued, "under the protecting shadow of the dome which crowns the halls of national legislation, we salute at the same time the cross of salvation and the banner of our nation. And while we send over the ocean our signals of love, devotion and loyalty to him who sits upon the throne of the fishermen, we send also our respectful salutation and our firm pledge of civil loyalty to the President of these United States."

In conclusion, the apostolic benediction was bestowed upon all those present and upon all members of the Holy Name societies.

No Wage Cut in Local Mills

Continued
pany suggestion of a 20 per cent cut, was awaited with avidity by both officials and employees.

Lawrence Mfg. Co. Change
In the hosiery mills, where lean business has been the rule much longer than in the other manufacturing establishments, the Amoskeag decision was held not to be of any significance as far as local concerns go. The Ipswich several months ago announced a readjustment of wages that was accepted by the workers. True there was a little grumbling, but the plant continued to operate without any semblance of serious industrial trouble. Officials at the time would not say that a readjustment had taken place, but several employees said their pay envelopes decreased as high as 15 per cent.

The same is true of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., makers of hosiery and underwear. Nearly a year ago this concern announced a readjustment of its allowances for piecework that some employees said affected them about equally as a 10 per cent. cut. Last week another readjustment of the allowance schedule for piecework was made by the company and the work week increased from a three-day to a five-day week. Some employees say the cut is equal to 10 per cent. Agent Everett H. Walker of the company, while frankly admitting there had been a readjustment of wages, held that it was slight and the reductions varied according to the type of machine operated and the type of work on the machine. In some cases there was no variation he held and added that the changes were in this instance so slight no formal announcement was made nor was any notice of any "wage cut" posted.

"It was purely a seasonal readjustment," said Mr. Walker, "such as we have been making from time to time as long as we have been in business. I would not call it a wage cut and do not think it fair to so call it. There is evidently a desire to make much of little. We are trying to get along and get as much business and provide as much employment as we can. These seasonal readjustments" were never termed wage cuts or wage raises in the past and I do not believe they should be made so much of now."

Amoskeag Plan Temporary
Mill operatives today laid stress upon the fact that the Amoskeag reduction is not a permanent reduction but that rather it was agreed to try the plan from Oct. 4 for six months to see if better business and a full time week should result therefrom. A statement to that effect was made public at the time of the announcement by J. Fred Mullin, chairman of the company union at Manchester.

From officials of the association of Lowell manufacturers and from individual members thereof it was learned that the association thus far has not taken any steps toward a general wage reduction in Lowell and that the getting of business rather than the wage question has been the main subject of conversation at their meetings. No call has been issued for any meeting to discuss wages nor is one likely or expected.

In Boston the acceptance of the Amoskeag proposal was looked upon as a point to similar decreases throughout the cotton textile industry in New England. Amoskeag common stock showed a gain of over four points in the market when the settlement was announced. Pacific Mills common which in one day last week dropped 11 points showed a steady gain and closed the day at 76. It was consistently rumored that the Pacific Mills will soon negotiate for wage-reductions similar to Amoskeag's, but the point is that lower wages and cheaper cotton should work to restore normal conditions to the mills.

Lawrence Agents Emphatic
In Lawrence yesterday Irving Southworth, agent of the Pacific, made a strong statement in which he said that wage reduction had not even been discussed by the company officials to his knowledge. John T. Mercer, agent of the Arlington, made an emphatic statement in which he said a reduction had not been discussed there and the management had given no thought to a decrease.

Their statements in substance were the same as the opinions expressed by Lowell cotton mill heads in discussing the matter today. Officials of the American Woolen Co., who operate mills in this district including the Ram's Head, the Beaver Brook, and the Bay State Woolen, have recently and repeatedly denied that any wage cut is contemplated.

In a last announcement of President William M. Wood stated plainly that the matter of cutting wages was "the last thing thought of" and that he

MRS. MAE URDANG 114

Her "Young" Brother of 100
and Her "Boy" of 89, Attend Birthday Celebration

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—When Mrs. Mae Urdang celebrates her 114th birthday this afternoon in the Harlem home of the daughters of Israel, among those taking part in the jubilation will be her "young" brother of 100 years, and her "boy" who is just 89. In addition, 50 other aged men and women, inmates of the home, will join in the celebration whose feature will be the cutting of a birthday cake adorned with 114 candles.

In these remote days when Napoleon the Great was yet a living presence and not a memory, Mrs. Urdang was born, the daughter of a confectioner in Riga. Her memory goes back to kings, queens and empires long ago departed, and despite her age she discourses vividly upon the scenes of the past. Mrs. Urdang takes a keen interest also in the doings of the present day and delights to have the newspapers read to her.

Her centenarian brother, who often visits her, she is said to regard as a "mere stripling," and often gives him the benefit of her discursive advice.

Mrs. Urdang eats no meat or eggs and only few fruits and vegetables, living mostly on bread, cereals, soup and coffee.

personally would oppose any attempt to cut wages at this time.

Of course it is realized that should the mills in New Hampshire and Rhode Island all succeed in reducing wages the mills of this section would of necessity be obliged to follow suit in order to survive competition. That nothing is contemplated here was made quite emphatic when those interviewed when asked regarding what they thought as to the immediate future. It seems to be the opinion of those in charge of plants where the operatives have been hit hardest because of curtailed schedules that the operatives are in no mood to consider proposals of reductions.

Watchful Waiting the Rule Here

In Fall River and New Bedford the news of the success of the Amoskeag in New Hampshire and the Manville-Jencks-Co. in Rhode Island in cutting wages 10 per cent has been received by operatives with the same pronouncement that I was granted here. In all quarters however, it was apparent that so far nothing has been planned. What the future will bear is still a matter of conjecture.

Local mill officials interviewed today were practically unanimous in expressing regret that the uneasiness which follows the news from Manchester and Rhode Island should set in here just at a time when conditions seemed to be turning a trifle for the better. With both official and employee the only course, it is believed, seems to be to plug along and await to learn what fruit the morrow may bear.

Because of insufficient evidence and because he would not allow testimony under the search warrant presented, U. S. Commissioner R. B. Murphy for the defendants, claimed that the search warrant in the case specifically limited search to public rooms, service rooms and the cellar of the hotel property and did not allow search of private rooms, such as the office of the hotel proprietors, where in a safe a small quantity of gin and whiskey was found. The commissioner agreed with him and excluded all evidence given under the warrant.

Utilities Commission Orders Revision in Gas Rates Here As Petitioned By Rep. Corbett

(Special to the Sun)

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The public utilities department in its decision on the question of gas rates in Lowell, on which a hearing was petitioned for by Representative Thomas J. Corbett of Lowell, announced the following revisions today:

100 cubic feet of gas per month after Oct. 1 will cost 50 cents. The present rate for that amount of gas is 60 cents.

500 cubic feet of gas, under the revision, will cost $1.02 as against the present rate of $1.16.

1000 cubic feet of gas will now cost $1.59½ as against $1.71.

1500 cubic feet of gas will cost $2.17 as against the present rate of $2.26.

In its decision, the commission says: "As this new schedule reduces the present rate of gas used by ordinary household consumers in whose behalf the particular complaint is made, we are of the opinion that this new schedule should be given a fair trial."

SEPTEMBER'S RAINFALL IS RECORD BREAKER

September's total rainfall measurements in Lowell, threaten to break all official records, if further precipita-tions in abnormal quantities continue throughout the month.

Proprietors of the Locks and Canals for the past twenty years have religiously chronicled and preserved recorded records covering weather shape of rainfalls. The figures engrossed in official charts that are highly prized by the proprietors, show in detail
Lowell weather and rainfall statistics covering each day of the year for a period of three years and ten years.

The reports show that the average yearly number of inches of rainfall in this city during the past seventy years was 39.20.

Lowell has had about its normal amount of rainfall thus far this year, according to Locks and Canal records, total inches recorded on Sept. 18 for the months of January, February, March, April, May, June, July and August and the first 18 days of the present month of September, being 31.87.

If more rain storms come during the remaining twelve days of the month,
September will have broken a few records in the abnormally column.

With the year 1924 three months more to go and a total rainfall up to Sept. 18 already exceeding the average of 39.20 obtained by computing the rainfalls recorded in Lowell since the year 1854. It is extremely likely that the first autumnal month of 1924 will establish itself in the abnormal, or
"freak" weather column before Jan. 1, 1925.

U. S. Commissioner Dis- charges Lowell Hotel Men

to find a pint of gin and three ounces of whiskey in two bottles in a safe in an office in the rear of the hotel lobby on July 10.

Luke Hoban testified that he had placed the liquor in the safe on the day the raid was made after it had been found in a hotel room by a chambermaid and turned over to him. Thomas Hoban said he had no knowledge whatever of the liquor and Mr. May said he did not know of its existence and in fact had no access to the safe.

Witnesses for the government were Federal Agent Lavaca, and Patrolman William F. Liston, of the Lowell police. Agent Lavaca told of entering the hotel on the afternoon of July 10 and of finding in a safe in an office back of the hotel desk a pint of gin and three ounces of whiskey. Other raiding officers were Federal Agents McKenzie and Fielding and Sgt. Winn of the local police.

Officer Liston testified to searching a room on the second floor, but found no liquor.

Attorney Murphy asked for the discharge of the three defendants for reasons above stated, and the commissioner so ordered.

Richard L. Lawrence, of Lawrence, pleaded not guilty to a charge of sale and possession on July 3. His counsel asked that the case be dismissed on grounds that defendant has been ready for trial on three occasions and the government has not presented its witnesses. The commissioner said he did not agree to this, but promised a speedy hearing on October 8, to which date the case was continued.

Louis Charos and James Manousan, charged with conspiracy, were continued to October 10 for hearing.

John Rathgrub, Lawrence, charged with the illegal possession and transportation of beer, was called and continued for hearing to October 7.

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

"EXECUTIONS" CONTINUE IN BULGARIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 19.—The "executions" of members of the opposing sections of the Macedonian party in the reprisals growing out of the slaying of Todor Alexandroff are continuing.

News that a leading colleague of Alexandroff had been killed at Thivopolis arrived here while a great mourning parade in Alexandroff's memory was being held. It had such an effect that the stores and offices were hastily closed and the business life of the city completely suspended.

EVENING SOCIAL AT THE HIGHLAND CLUB

The first of the Friday evening socials will be held this evening at the Highland Club hall in Princeton street. Dancing will be in order from 8:30 until 12 with Leo Daly's orchestra furnishing the music. This orchestra is featuring all the latest and favorite dance hits for men, long, ritz and college numbers. The hall has been thoroughly cleaned and the dancing surface is in perfect condition. The management has set the admission at 50 cents and this popular price will prevail during the fall and winter season.

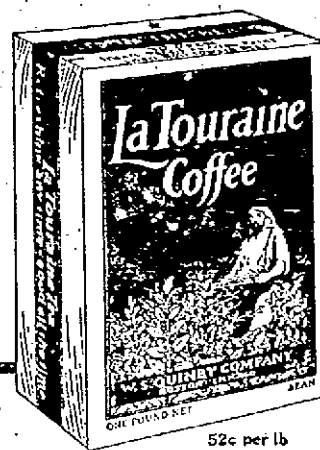

These affairs have appealed to the younger set of the city and in the past have attracted large gatherings. An evening of real pleasure is in store for those who attend this function. These parties will be conducted every Friday evening.

VIEW SITE OF PROPOSED BRIDGE

Members of the city council yesterday afternoon visited the site of the proposed bridge over Beaver Brook. A plan and profile are being made by the city engineer and the councilors wished to acquaint themselves with conditions under which the structure will be built. In the party were Councilors James J. Gallagher, Frederick A. Sadler, Daniel Cosgrove, Arthur Genest, David Dickson and John W. Daly. Building Inspector John E. Moynahan and School Committeeman Thomas D. Delaney also made the trip. The latter to make a view of land adjoining the Greenhalge and Varian schools which it is proposed to seize for school purposes at a later date.

HELD ANNUAL SUPPER

The annual supper by the parishioners of St. John's Catholic mission in Chelmsford was held last evening in the town hall with a goodly number attending. A beautiful repast was served at six o'clock following which dancing was enjoyed in the upper hall. The dining room was prettily decorated in streamers of oak leaf red and pine tree green hung from a large centerpiece of the same color combination. Bouquets of red roses and asparagus fern decorated the tables. Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland was in charge of the decorations and she was assisted by several young lady members of the parish. Walter H. McMahon, Patrick Haley and Ephraim Ayotte took charge of the dance arrangements while the supper was served by Mrs. Daniel Haley and Mrs. George L. Walle assisted by the ladies of the Mission.

THE FISH AND GAME CLUB

Sportsmen From Lowell and Elsewhere Hold Outing at Willowdale

Congressman Rogers Guest of Honor—Dinner, Sports and Speeches on Program

Lowell Fish and Game association members had another red-letter September outing at Willowdale, yesterday afternoon. The Lake Massacuppis shores in the dance hall and dining pavilion section of the summer vacation territory out yonder, were alive with fishermen and hunting men. Many invited guests were also on hand to enjoy the festive programs familiar to those who frequent the popular sporting organization's autumnal outings in Nature's preserves.

Willowdale was reached in good season for the annual group picture to be taken, then came adjournment to the dining pavilion on the left and nearly 400 guests filled within five minutes for a regular "Y. & G. A." banquet provided by Fage, the caterer with a wealth of staple provender and extras.

After-dinner speaking is always in order at these September functions at Willowdale, but the last yesterday was particularly so. The mayor extended congratulations briefly, and then Chairman William C. Purcell, of the general outing committee called the dinner to order.

"Booster" Arthur L. Clark of Boston, secretary of the Massachusetts Fish and Game association, was warmly greeted. He, too, bowed to the host of brevity. He declared that there were now about 125 fish and game associations splendidly functioning in different sections of the commonwealth. Nearly all of them are in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Clark praised the work of the organizations as a whole, and paid warm tribute to Lowell's always-active association in particular. He reviewed some of the new legislation that the state legislature has recorded on the statute books and outlined briefly what lies ahead of Massachusetts. Fish and Game associations in their endeavors to keep the laws free from violations.

Secretary Clark made a final plea for the support of more constructive measures regulating fish and game, and said he knew that support would always be found in the ranks of the Lowell Fish and Game association.

The new president, James E. Burns, received an ovation. He held true to the stipulation made in the brevity-of-speech column, but found time enough to renew his allegiance to the club association, attested its prosperity and declared that he was proud to lead the organization that has been so long prominent in Massachusetts fish and game protective movements. He told the members that during the past year, the local club has released double the number of pheasants and double the number of fish recorded as released last year. Applause greeted this report.

Congressman Rogers Guest of Honor—Dinner, Sports and Speeches on Program

Congressman Rogers received the usual happy greetings. Although not yet in the best of health and old-time vigor apparent in former years when he appeared as honored guest at local fish and game club outings at Willowdale, he was in excellent humor and his voice was clear and vigorous as of yore. He admitted to the members gathered at the outing that he had lost weight during his recent illness, but was getting it back.

Mr. Rogers referred to the outing as being the ninth one that he has attended as a member and guest. He has been a member almost from the time the club started in 1913. The formal organization with officers and charter was made at a rally of Lowell and Middlesex county town fish and game enthusiasts, held in the American house in 1914. About 150 men were in attendance at the formalities.

"The fish and game association has held annual outings in the fall of the years, with the exception of one, 'war year,' 1918, when the members voted not to go to Willowdale and hold any festive banqueting ceremonies, anxious to participate in the nation-wide campaign for the conservation of food supplies in the effort to win the war."

Before closing his brief address, Congressman Rogers offered once more his hearty thanks for fellow members courtesies, for the fine reception and entertainment and the good wishes tendered in regard to his health.

He also uttered a strong endorsement of the Lowell sportsmen's humane work in elevating the fish and game world and advancing legal measures for the proper protection of denizens of the wilds. The congressman's tribute pleased the association membership immensely.

General Chairman Purcell read a letter of regret from Commissioner William C. Adams, who told the fish and game men that next December, there would be held the annual conference of leading men interested in upholding and further strengthening Massachusetts fish and game laws. This meeting may be held in Memorial Auditorium.

In his letter to the local sportsmen, Mr. Adams declared that the Lowell Fish and Game association had long been leading the way in upholding works in its chosen field, and that no club in Massachusetts has done so much in the field of conservation of fish and game as the local sportsmen's institution. Mr. Adams briefly described the growth and present breadth of the state organizations, as they are today constituted in the aggregate number of separate organizations now listed as 125.

Nine Clubs Represented

U. S. Game Warden Stadlner was among the guests at the day's outing, but did not speak.

Nine New England clubs were represented by members traveling to and from Lowell by automobiles. Local members cordially greeted an old friend, Algie Holt, from Peterboro, N. H., who is active secretary and booster of the famous Monadnock Sportsmen's club. Henry Duly, also of Peterboro, well known sportsman up north, came down the line to meet President Burns.

CRESSY & DAYNE GUESTS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Will M. Cressy, veteran vaudeville artist appearing at Keith's this week, was guest of the Y's Men's club and the Y.M.C.A. dormitory men at the association building last night and in a brief after dinner talk spilled considerable of his ready wit and humor. Most of his talk was of his work as an overseas entertainer in the war and his experiences provide a fine theme for an after dinner talk. The experiences of the veteran actor and his wife and stage partner, Blanche Dayne, made a great topic and his auditors were kept interested until the end of his talk.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cressy were given an ovation and Mr. Cressy was made an honorary member of the Y's Men's club. The affair was arranged by Burpee E. Barchard dormitory secretary at the "Y" and the dormitory men turned out with a good representation.

SOUSA HAS WONDERFUL MUSICAL MIND

By actual tests psychologists in the past few years have discovered that people of average intellect and educational capacities are visual-minded as compared to aural-minded people in proportion of almost 100,000 to 1. In other words, to 100,000 people the first reaction to a given idea is mental image of that idea. But person No. 100,001 is likely to be aural-minded. Instead of visual-minded, and his mental reaction to a given idea is not a mental picture but a mental sound. Lieut. Com. John Philip Sousa, the famous bandmaster, is aural-minded and it is perhaps this faculty for transcribing ideas into sounds which has made him so prolific, not only as a composer, but as an arranger and orchestrator of all classes of music.

To the average person, perhaps one of the most unfathomable mental processes is that of the chess player who is able to play games with several opponents simultaneously. But Sousa has a mental faculty, not widely known, which is perhaps as baffling and marvelous in its way, and that is his ability to write down directly on paper, without the common composer's method of trial and error at the piano, not only principal themes, but orchestrations for an entire band of one hundred men with more than a dozen parts for different principal instruments.

When Sousa transcribes a group of melodies such as his new symphonized arrangement, "Music of the Minute," he sits down with a great sheet of music paper before him. Upon the first staff he writes down the opening note for the cornets. Then on the staff below, a note on each staff, he indicates the tones for clarinets, piccolos, trombones, French horns, baritone, saxophones, oboes, sousaphones, bassoons, English horns and drums, to say nothing of "second" parts for cornets and clarinets. His pen races up and down the big sheet filling in a note or a bar at a time for each class of instruments, and the idea is growing from nothing at all except his memory of the half a dozen melodies which he is incorporating into the new arrangement.

Sousa's uncanny ability to know beforehand how a new composition actually will sound is indicated by the fact that he does not compose with a piano near at hand. Perhaps he writes a few bars in his dressing room while "resting" between portions of a concert, and perhaps he writes a few more bars at his hotel after the concert. As a rule the composition is never played until he reaches his home after a tour when he hands a piano arrangement to his daughter, Priscilla Savas, who plays it for him on the piano. Rarely is the main theme changed in any way, and quite often the entire band arrangement of a new number has been completed before even the piano arrangement has been played.

MANUFACTURED IN NEW ENGLAND MILLS

Cut-Fitted and Tailored in Lowell

Wood Mill Worsteds
OF LAWRENCE, MASS.

These goods bought two weeks ago direct from the commission house of Frize & Co., Summer Street, Boston, Mass., lower in price than anything I have seen in six years, lower in price than any buyer of woollens can purchase them a month from today.

No other tailor or clothier in New England today can talk about an all wool and worsted BLUE SERGE suiting this weight under $35.00; and I contend these fabrics compare very favorably for weight and quality of merchandise with suits selling around $40.00.

For a limited time the merchandise offered in this fall display is very exceptional; a small deposit is all that is necessary now—the balance when you need the garment. Many of these bolts are now displayed in my windows, around eighty yards in each piece. Be sure and see them, for this is an opportunity to effect a very considerable saving.

I will have on display eighty-five ready-to-wear overcoats just completed in my own workshop. Made in the latest models for this season. In these special samples are coats for the young sporty man and garments for the conservative dresser. I make these up in the dull months of August and September. I use them for window display, or you can purchase any one of these garments at any time when you cannot wait to have a garment made. I find them most most convenient when a customer is in doubt as to what style coat could please him best. EX-MAYOR FITZGERALD KEYNOTER AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

To Call Democratic Session to Order—Chief Interest in Klan Issue—Republican Leaders Also Gather at Worcester for Convention

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 19.—With a multitude of planks to consider the resolutions committee of the state democratic party will begin its session at 3 o'clock this afternoon to prepare the platform to be presented to the state convention Saturday. Thomas F. Cassidy of Cheshire is chairman of the committee. Senator David I. Walsh, Mayor James M. Curley of Boston and ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston were expected early today to have a vote in the framing of the platform, chief interest in which centers around the attitude of the party on the Ku Klux Klan issue which provoked such sharp dispute at the national convention. Ex-

Mayor Fitzgerald will call the convention to order and deliver the keynote address.

G. O. P. Convention
WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 19.—Republican leaders from all parts of Massachusetts arrived here this morning in preparation for the session of the resolutions committee headed by Congressman Allen T. Treadway, which will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider planks for the party platform to be presented at the state convention Saturday. There will be a revival of the night-before gatherings tonight with a banquet by the Massachusetts Republican club at which

Governor Channing H. Cox, Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, President Frank G. Allen of the Massachusetts senate, Speaker Frederick H. Gillett of the national house and Mrs. Charles Sumner III will speak. A reception will follow.

THREATENED WIFE

Martin Sopel was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction in district court this morning when he was found guilty of threatening his wife with a revolver. The wife stated that he had maltreated her on various occasions and had often made threats to kill her. Asked what he had done with the gun, Sopel replied that he had lost it about a month ago, but the court ordered him to produce it as soon as possible.

FINED AND SENTENCED

James Ryan was found guilty of operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor and was fined $100 and given a direct sentence of 15 days in the house of correction, in district court this morning. He was also fined $5 for drunkenness and when appeals were taken in both instances, he was ordered to recognize in $100 for his appearance in superior court next month.

A version of the story of the flood is contained in the ancient books of the Nash or Moso sect.

English Exterior Makes a Charming Home of the "Square" House

Who would suspect this interesting house of being our old stand-by, the "square" house, in a new dress?

If you will examine the plans, you will see that it is actually a 28x28 layout, but with considerably improved interior and exterior arrangement. Half-timbered stucco construction, with a steep roof, suggests the charm of English design.

There is a good attic which regulates the temperature of the house both summer and winter, or which may be finished off into a bedroom and store-room with several closets. It is necessary, as a stair is provided. The arrangement of the stair in an all off the main portion of the house permits a better use of the space for rooms. Most people like the side-hall plan, such as is used here, for the same reason.

There are six rooms, sleeping porch and bath, all of more than average size. Every room is provided with built-in features to make it attractive and comfortable. A hearth with an oak mantel, and near it a built-in bookcase, form an inviting part of the living room.

FRONT VIEW AND FLOOR PLANS OF A NEW KIND OF "SQUARE" HOUSE.

Highlights the kitchen is the sink with two drainboards. One of the other desirable features of this pleasant "engine-room" is a wall-cabinet ironing board that folds up when not in use. Note, too, the handy little back porch, and the separate corner for the refrigerator.

It would be hard to imagine pleasant bedrooms, with their wealth of windows and many closets. In one a dressing table is built-in, between a hanging closet and a child-like tray case.

The corner porch is of course the chief feature which distinguishes this house from other square houses. The entire house, in the average community, should cost about $2200 to build, figuring at 30 cents a cubic foot.

Detailed plans and specifications of this house may be obtained at low cost by writing to the Home Plan Editor, The Lowell Sun.

One-fourth of the farms of America are not fit for cultivation, farm experts assert.

LOWELL CASE IN

CAMBRIDGE COURT

In superior court at East Cambridge yesterday afternoon Cornelius F. Sullivan of Lowell pleaded guilty to operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and was fined $100.

He asked three months in which to pay the fine, but the court refused and suggested he might work out the fine at the house of correction. This would mean a sentence of 200 days, however, and Sullivan was allowed a little time to make an effort to secure the money.

New England—and Beyond

OUR Company serves the telephone needs of five New England states; but we should serve them all if that service ceased at their boundaries.

As an integral part of the Bell System we are subject to no such limitation.

In this day of human progress, no land is sufficient to itself. New England, of which we are so proud, is not and cannot be a self-contained economic unit.

The productivity of her shops and mills outruns her need to consume. The wants of her high civilization are too complex for home supply.

Of such conditions Commerce is born—Commerce, with Transportation and Communication its handmaidens.

At the disposal of the New Englander who would buy or sell we place the telephone facilities of a continent.

Fields white with cotton. Fields yellow with grain. Treasure-houses of iron and copper and coal. Ranges where cattle feed. Forests of pine and fir and spruce. All send tribute to New England industry. All profit by New England skill.

With more than 15,000,000 Bell telephones at command, there is scarce a crossroad—much less a market-place where production and consumption meet—that we cannot reach with swift sure speech.

While New England is New England—a land of lathes and looms, of merchants and manufacturers—we know no corner of the Nation in which the Bell telephone slogan should have greater meaning.

The brothers are both conservation fans and ardent protectors of the fish and game laws of their respective states. The Monadnock club is doing work similar to that now being performed by the Lowell organization in this county.

The Sports Program
The drag hunt arranged as the leading feature of the afternoon's entertainment program, was successful beyond expectations. Richard Ely Davidson, Boston editor, who lives in Groton, brought his pack of English fox hounds to Willowdale to give the sportsmen a performance that thrilled. The hunt was made from Willowdale around the lake, crying in unison as they sped to the end where the scent was lost in the waters.

The sports program included pillow fights, bait-casting, shot-put, broad jumping, boat races, a trap shoot and races for fat men and amateur athletes. The quail games were exciting. Among the "champion" bait-casters were Secretary Frederick W. Barrows, 125 feet; William O'Connell, 111 feet, 5 1/2 inches; Henry Elliott, 106 feet, 7 inches; William Barrows, 100 feet; T. H. Lynch, 95 feet, 6 inches; Harold Stewart, 89 feet. Daniel MacDonald won the 100-yard dash, James Clancy the 100-yard race for fat men, J. Ingalls won the shot-put with a toss of 29 feet, 1 inch; E. C. Haines captured first place in the boat race and Henry Savard is 1924 outing champion boat-racer.

President Burns directed the events at the trap. He also participated in a match with professionals being tied with Ray Richardson for first place with 24 targets out of a possible 25. In the handicap match, B. Buck scored a win, receiving a punch bowl as a prize. Others who captured prizes were F. Flint, G. C. Moore, George Buck, Burton Currier, Dr. Frank R. Brady, A. Sturtevant, W. Sturtevant and F. C. McKiltrick.

The following were the committees directing the 1924 outing: William C. Purcell, chairman of general outing committee; reception committee, President Burns and all directors; catering, President Burns, Dr. P. R. Brady, R. Haynes, Dr. C. B. Livingston and Dudley L. Page; publicity, Secretary Barrows, A. W. David and W. J. Kilburn; sports, Arnold A. Ryan, Earl Wilbur, John Konefick, William Wood, H. Savard and H. GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommend Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This drives the gas, wind and bloated right out of the body, sweetens the stomach, neutralizes the excess acid and prevents its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Adv-

DISCUSSION OF EDSON SCHOOL PROBLEM

The Edson school matter was taken up at a meeting of the public property committee of the city council yesterday afternoon and Supt. Molloy was asked his opinion. He told of the survey that is now under way of school housing conditions and said that the report would be made at the November meeting of the school committee. "The thing necessary," he said, "is to see the real needs of school housing. The housing situation at the high school waited twelve years for relief. The present high school is large enough to accommodate 3000 pupils. It is not filled to capacity today. With the new building in use the high school situation can be put into the back of our minds for the next five or six years and the school housing question turns to the schools lower than the high school. The junior high schools, which are taking away the greater part of the high school freshman class, are more or less crowded and even though we did away with these schools, the grammar schools would be crowded. "No man in my position," he said, "would advise the city to junk any school that is furnishing accommodations for a large number of pupils and I think the buildings should be put in the best possible condition."

Councilor Sadler asked if the Edson school matter was not the most important and Mr. Molloy's answer was "no." The councilor asked if the building had not been condemned. Mr. Molloy said he had never seen any report to this effect and the councilor replied that the city council had.

Mr. Dolaney said that the school committee favored a new building. Mr. Molloy admitted this but questioned its judgment and again objected to the creation of a new Edson school. Councilor Gallagher said he understood repairs could be effected for $9000.

Mr. Moynihan was called upon for his opinion and he said that after State Inspector Cobb had viewed the building and made recommendations for repairs, he and Contractor Meley had gone over the building and the latter had estimated the cost of repair at between forty and fifty thousand dollars.

The matter was closed when Councilor Sadler moved that the building superintendent be instructed to have a survey made of the building by a disinterested party and a report made to the committee.

Mr. Gallagher moved that Councilor Genest be named a committee of one to interview Dr. Joseph Janour and try to have him reconsider his decision to resign from the high school building commission. Councilor Genest amended the motion to read a committee of two, and it was carried. Councilors Genest and Gallagher were named.

Mr. Molloy asked that steps be taken to purchase the land already recommended for seizure at the Butler, Tenth street and Riverside schools. He also asked that the committee assist in securing the portable schools requested some time ago, and that the necessary steps be taken to seize land at the Greenhalge and Varnum schools for expansion purposes. The committee voted to communicate with the city solicitor regarding the first three items mentioned and to view the land near the Greenhalge and Varnum schools which it is desired to seize after the meeting. The meeting then adjourned at 3.10 o'clock.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

The following marriage intentions have been filed at the office of the city clerk:

Fullon Folland, 172 Howard street, mechanic; Elva M. Campbell, 52 Branch street, domestic.

Stephen S. Nickles, Chelmsford, Mass., operative; Marie A. Lamoth, cleaner.

Leo R. Monneau, 308 Merrimack street, real estate agent; Alice I. Cannon, Clinton, Mass., at home.

THE FIRST STREET OVAL

Municipal Stadium Urged by Members of the City Council

To the end that the First Street oval property may be converted into a municipal stadium for athletic purposes, a committee from the city council last night conferred with the board of park commissioners and urged consideration of the idea.

Councilor John W. Daly, Attorney C. J. O'Neill and Smith J. Adams advocated the stadium idea and asked the park commission whether or not it felt that there would be objection to a legislative enactment establishing a commission to take over the oval and build a city stadium. There was a long discussion of details and it was finally agreed that a month from now, at the next park commission meeting, an opinion on the matter would be ready. For the moment the park commission members were unwilling to agree or oppose the idea except that there were evidences of a belief in the commission that it would not be advisable to take any public playground for such a purpose. A delegation of residents in upper Gorham street appeared before the commission requesting the use of park department bleachers on O'Donnell playground this fall for football games to be played there and the superintendent was instructed to place them there.

Councilor Eugene A. Fitzgerald discussed the proposed location of a running track on the North common and a satisfactory location was agreed upon and the superintendent authorized to go ahead with the work.

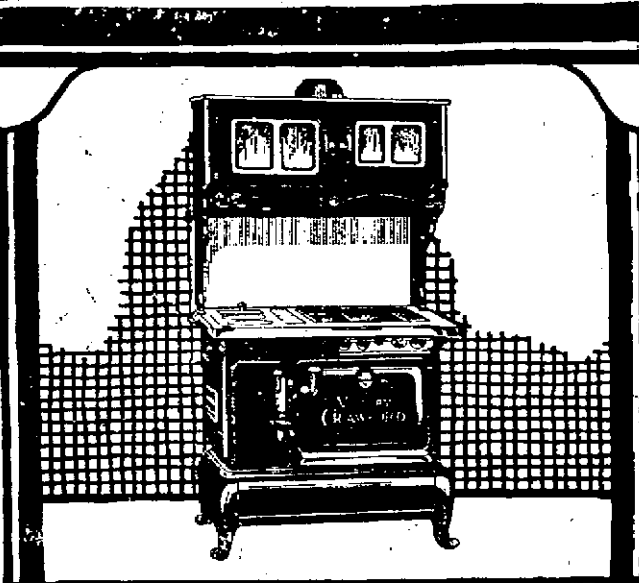

Supt. Kernan reported on the tree damage sustained in the wind storm under running track on the North common. It was voted to send a letter to the mayor stating that the department has expended $2000 on this emergency and must spend $1000 more before conditions are brought back to normal and asking that the department be reimbursed.

It was voted to take by right of eminent domain the following lots in Gorham and other streets adjoining the O'Donnell playground at the values attached: Martin 10th, 6500 square feet, $400; Filza Luz, 25,800 square feet, $1550; Mary E. Sullivan, 2700 square feet, $500; Patrick J. and Michael Morris, 2300 square feet, $400; Mattie Jordan, 2300 square feet, $400; John S. Palm, 6400 square feet, $700; Mary J. Reardon, 2300 square feet, $400; Catherine Fitzpatrick, 2300 square feet, $200; Hattie M. Gray, 2300 square feet, $200; Nora Deas, 6400 square feet, $500. These are all to be charged to the John J. O'Donnell playground loan.

BROTHER AND SISTER REUNITED

Richard Farmer of McKeesport, Pa., and his sister, Mrs. Mary F. Garmon of Lowell, were united a few days ago after a separation of 57 years. Mr. Farmer had become separated from his family when a young man and had gone to McKeesport, Pa., where he has engaged in business. He had lost all track of his sister and had come to believe her dead. This summer Mr. Farmer made a trip to Europe and visited relatives in England and Scotland and who told him that his sister was alive and resided in Lowell. On his return to the United States Mr. Farmer came directly to this city and found his sister living with her daughter, Mrs. Richard H. Arnold of 31 Princeton street. The reunion was an occasion of much rejoicing.

Another Crawford Victory

SINCE 1855, Crawford Ranges have been constantly winning victories in the battles of housekeeping. And here is the greatest triumph of all—the new Victory 800 Combination Range.

For the family whose cooking requirements do not need the capacity of the large-sized Victory, here is the ideal range.

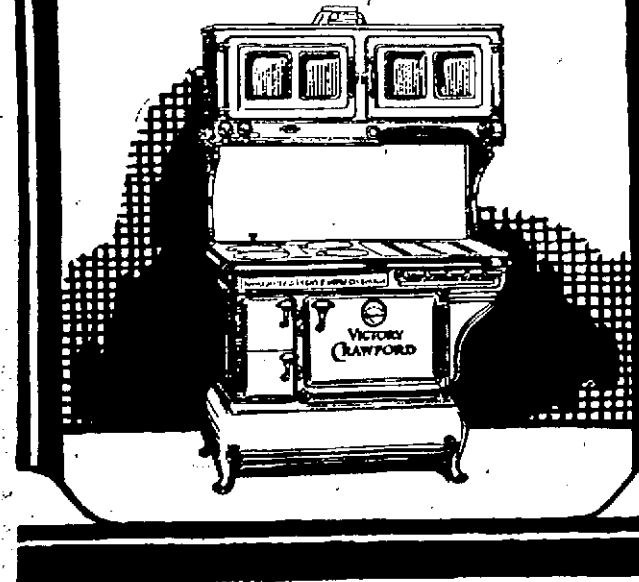

It is only 37 inches in length, yet it gives you a coal oven, two covers on the cooking top, two roomy gas ovens, four gas burners, and the famous Crawford Adjustable Broiler.

Both Victory models are finished in black, or gray enamel. We'll put the one you choose in your kitchen on an easy payment plan. Come in this week!

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting and operations fail? Do you know the cause of piles in general?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet remedy prepared by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-RHOD, now sold by Green's drug store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-RHOD banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for cure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—Adv.

Telephone Girl. This is not a serial, but every chapter is a distinct story in itself. The cast is almost the same as in "Fighting Blood," but Alberta Vaughan, chosen by H. C. Witwer himself plays the title role.

Gene Stratton's story, "The Girl of the Limberlost," is the added feature picture and has not lost any of its interest in the translation to the screen. Gloria Grey has the title role while Cullen Landis has the leading male role.

MERRIMACK SQUARE
There are more bow-legged actors on Broadway than any other place in the world, casting director at the famous Players' Long Island studio, discovered while casting men to appear as lackeys, servants, guards, soldiers and courtiers in "Monsieur Beaucaire," the Paramount picture of Booth Tarkington's story, in which Rudolph Valentino has the title role. All the men in the picture wear knee-length silk breeches, for the story is laid in Louis XV's time, and bow-legs just do not look good in silk breeches. Scores of applicants were looked over in an effort to find straight-lined men. All those with a slight crook at the knee were rejected. After much careful picking fifty men were found with legs suitable for the costumes.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"The Village Lawyer," in which Cressy and Dayne appear at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is a humorous sketch dealing with rural life. It is splendidly played, Lynn and Howard, in a skit of repartee, stand up well with its headliner, and Thornton and Squires have a wholly delightful instance of music, dancing and comedy. Other acts on the bill are: Jean Lebon, xylophonist; Ward and Dooley, dancers, and the Three Lancers, acrobats. The picture feature is "One Law for the Woman."

SEN. DAVID I. WALSH

Not to Conduct Independent Campaign As Alleged by Boston Paper

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The alleged statement of Senator David I. Walsh that he will conduct his own campaign for reelection this fall, independent of all other candidates, turns out not to have been a statement at all, but was rather a letter sent by him to a large number of his personal friends and supporters in former campaigns, and it contains no declaration of intention to ignore other democratic candidates.
"Just republican propaganda" is the way Senator Walsh characterized the article appearing in a Boston morning paper yesterday. He made it remains clear that he intends to aid the entire democratic ticket to the best of his ability, and that he expects similar support from all other candidates.
"I am taking up the preliminary work of preparation for the cam-

SENATOR DAVID I. WALSH

paign," the letter reads. "The party committees and clubs will devote their energies to the general work and to supplement their efforts and without interfering with their activities, I am interested in enlisting voluntary supporters throughout the state to rally to my candidacy the great body of his people whom I have sought to serve.
Having in mind the helpful friendliness manifested by you in the past,
I am presuming upon that spirit to ask you to constitute yourself a committee of one to spread my message.

"I shall base my appeal for support upon my public record. The people entrusted me with great power at their hands and I now am to make report of my stewardship. The opportunity is welcomed. I should be judged and I am content to be judged upon my record.

"Because I know that I have striven to stand four square with the people of Massachusetts; because I have insisted upon protecting the unprotected; because I have striven against every effort of privilege and other sinister forces to encroach upon personal liberty, political rights and economic freedom, I enter this campaign with the confidence that is given by a just cause.

"But the confidence of duty done will not alone suffice. The truth must be known and I am calling upon each of you to assist me in placing before the electorate the record of my service so that every voter when he goes to the ballot box in November will know the facts. Upon the informed judgment of the men and women of Massachusetts we can confidently rely. It is because of my knowledge of your devotion to the things that I have stood for that I return to you to help me to carry on to triumph not merely for a personal victory but in vindication of what we deem to be vital principles of the common weal."
Senator Walsh has already signified his intention of co-operating with the state committee for the success of the democratic ticket. HQT.

I wasted time, and now doth time waste me.—Shakespeare.

Not Her Pickin'

"Edith" said a mother to her little daughter, "You ought to be ashamed to speak to your father so impudently. I am sure you never heard me talk to him in that manner." "No," replied the rebellious infant, "but you choose him and I didn't."

Twas His Turn

A woman wanted to show her Chinese servant the correct way to announce visitors, and one afternoon went out to her front door, rang the bell, and made the man usher her into the drawing room. The following afternoon the bell rang, and, not hearing him answer it, she went to the door herself. To her surprise, he was standing waiting outside. "Why, Sing, what are you doing here?" she asked. "You fool me yesterday—I fool you today," was the reply.

Annabel Lee

Being short of copy, a Florida editor took down a volume of poems and copied "Annabel Lee." This he hung on the book and took his departure. His writing was so bad that his commentators had to call a consultation. They made out the words "Annabel Lee" and "home by the sounding sea." These words were all they could decipher. "I guess it's a society item," decided the foreman. "Just say Miss Annabel Lee has returned to her home at West Palm Beach."

Good Story Anyway

A man who had amassed a fortune by his own efforts liked to amuse his credulous acquaintances about his early hardships. Placed next to a dagger at dinner, he was sure to tell the following story: "I never learned to read or write until I was 21. My principal garment up to the age of 12 was a coffee bag. Down in the mountains, where I was raised, a brand popular in those days was triple X, and you can see a triple X across my shoulders to this day."

Waiting for a Thrill

A negro boy, a regular visitor to a certain library, was noticed by the attendant always to take the same book, open it eagerly at the same place and then laugh heartily. The attendant's curiosity being aroused, he followed the boy one day and saw him open the book. Glancing over his shoulder, he noticed the picture of a small boy being chased by a snoring bull. The attendant was about to ask what there was to laugh at when the negro chuckled: "Golly, 'e ain't caught 'im yet!"

The Candidate

And now the smiling candidate
His hopeful plea presents,
And tells us gladly who he is
And what he represents.
He shows us that the future will
Be very dark and dim,
And everything will go askew
Unless we vote for him.

At times he grows quite eloquent
In talking of himself.
He shows you what a shame 'twould be
To put him on the shelf.
Not by ambition is he moved—
That must be understood—
But he will sacrifice himself
Just for his country's good.

And oh, what promises he makes!
What wondrous things he'll do!
He'll bring on the millennium,
If you will put him through!
And so he goes on day by day
His promises to exalt
While you absorb his eloquence
With several grains of salt.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is much speculation among the people of Cosgrove and upper Gorham streets as to the intentions of the street department in regard to the paving of Cosgrove street. For the past several weeks, Gorham street has been under repair and the workmen have been using the material taken from Gorham street and paving the side streets. Several streets hitherto dirt covered are now well covered with a hard, fine appearing surface. Bowden and Corbett sts. on each side of Cosgrove were both repaired. The men started work on Cosgrove street but after half completing the job stopped for the lack of material. People living in the street are beginning to wonder if the work is to be left unfinished. As it is now the lower half of the street is well paved while the upper half, the part next Gorham street is in bad condition.

In taking the number of a suspicious automobile that later turned out to belong to an alleged criminal, and which resulted in his arrest on a serious charge, Police Officer William B. J. Conway is deserving of much praise and is being congratulated by his brother-officers for his efficient work. The officer was patrolling his beat in the Highlands section early Thursday morning when he noticed the suspicious looking machine speeding along the road. He promptly took the registration number and reported the incident to his superiors at the station. The number was traced and the man believed to have been re-

BAR "TRICK" FLYING OVER CROWDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Regulations to guard the safety of fliers as well as persons and property underneath them are embodied in new sections of the American Aeronautics safety code announced yesterday by the bureau of standards of the department of commerce. The new sections of the code, which is being prepared under the auspices of the bureau and the Society of Automotive Engineers by experts representing all interests in aircraft development, deal with traffic and plotting rules, qualifications for airmen and parachutes.

One of the regulations would forbid "trick" flying over crowds or thickly populated districts at any altitude, unless authorized by written permit and under proper safeguards for spectators and property. To insure a safe "constituting" radius for airmen in case of engine trouble, aircraft would not be permitted to descend to an altitude of less than 1500 feet over cities two miles in width, while for cities 10 miles wide a minimum altitude of nearly a mile is prescribed.

Where rivers, canals, parkways or other areas permitting a landing without damage to other persons or property are followed, lower altitudes of flight would be allowed.

One of the traffic provisions gives right of way to airplanes over airplanes, while both must give way to balloons. Passing from behind should be to the right, with passing by diving or rising forbidden. The code prescribes rigorous physical tests for those seeking license as commercial pilots, with periodic re-examination, and also that the airmen have a working knowledge of meteorology.

BACHELOR PARTY

A very pleasant bachelor party was given last evening at the Twin Places cottage at Lakeview to Mr. Harry Mauss by a number of his friends. There were musical numbers by Messrs. Donohue and Ball, well known local entertainers; Joseph Lewis and Edward Jennings of Boston; a very pleasing duet by William Harding and John Moynihan; readings by Thomas Harney, Charles Slowe, Thomas McDermott; soft shoe and clog dancing by Charles Brown and James Brady. Mr. Mauss was presented a very beautiful easy chair, the presentation being made by Samuel Scott. The evening was pleasantly finished by a chicken supper, furnished by Harvey the caterer.

sponsible for a daring holdup was placed under arrest. But for Officer Conway's net, the suspect might still be at large.

Nobody ever said that Ray Stanton wasn't a pretty good automobile salesman, but as a poultry raiser he's a flivver. Roland L. McAllister will bear witness to that. Neighbors in business, they were discussing the high price of eggs the other day when Stanton told "Mac" that he had bought a dozen or more hens but they hadn't laid an egg in the two weeks he'd had them. He had been feeding them high and with a free hand, but they refused to produce.

Mac admitted he was somewhat of a poultry fancier himself and couldn't understand what was wrong. He drove up with Ray to look at them. One look was enough, Ray had roosters, a dozen of them.

One of the greatest handicaps met with by boys who are anxious to play with the high school football squad when they ask their parents' permission to play, is the question, "Who will pay your bills if you are hurt while practicing with the squad or playing with the team?" High school athletic authorities realize this and it is said by them that steps should be taken to provide insurance for the players. Nothing has been done officially to provide insurance but it is rumored that definite action towards providing insurance will be taken in the near future.

The League of Catholic Women which suspended the regular business meetings during the summer months will hold the first meeting of the fall-winter season Sunday afternoon, Oct. 19, at 3 o'clock in Liberty hall. The league plans an extensive program this year, included in which will be a Yuletide and a May party, two novel entertainments which will undoubtedly prove successful. The musicals and the informal parties conducted last year were most entertaining and indications point to an interesting and enjoyable season this year.

The Middlesex Women's club which opens on the first Monday in October promises its members an extensive and enjoyable program which will include lectures, entertainments and musicals. This organization, always most successful, endeavors to furnish the members with varied programs in which prominent artists and speakers figure.

The Educational club, under the presidency of Mrs. W. Jessop, will hold its first meeting of the season the first Tuesday in October which day will be observed as Tea Day. A fine program will be given and a list of business will be presented at the first business meeting of the 1924-25 club year.

MISSING BANKER UNDER ARREST

Winner, S. D. Man Charged
With Defalcations Amounting to $750,000 Caught

Trailed to Mexico by American Detective—Interned in Consulate

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 19.—George W. Mitchell, a fugitive from Winner, S. D., where, as president and cashier of the First National bank, he is charged with defalcations amounting to $750,000, is under arrest here.

Mitchell was trailed by an American detective who won his friendship and lived with him at the village of Tanquian, in the state of Vera Cruz, where he was doing commercial business with the Mexican railways. After his arrest he was brought here and interned in the American consulate. The trip from Tanquian was made on horseback, occupying three days, and the prisoner was ill upon his arrival.

SET DATE FOR ANNUAL COMMUNION SUNDAY

The regular monthly meeting of Bishop Delany assembly, fourth degree, K. of C. was held in Marie's restaurant last night. Supper was served at 6.30 o'clock and it was voted to hold the annual communion Sunday at St. Michael's church on Columbus day, Oct. 12. To arrange plans for this occasion and also to make arrangements for co-operating in a big celebration at Newburyport the same day, the following committee was appointed: Dr. James B. O'Connor, John C. McQuill, Frank Ricard, John J. Allen, Cleon O'Neill and Edward Tighe. This committee will assist the officers.

Two nominating committees were named, as follows: First, Charles H. Molloy; Second, Frank Ricard, Thomas J. Deane, Joseph P. Quigley. The election will take place at the October meeting.

Bishop Delany assembly will co-operate with Lowell council, 72, in the annual observance of Columbus day on Monday, Oct. 13. A general get-together of the assemblies of this district was discussed. An effort will be made to obtain a speaker of national prominence for this event. Last night's speakers included Hon. James B. Casey, Andrew Molloy, Patrick J. Nevins, Thomas B. Delaney, James F. Conway, Frank W. Doye, Charles J. Landers, grand knight-elect and the mayor.

HORSE KILLED

The Lowell Humane society was called out about 8 o'clock this morning to 139 Willie street, where a horse had fallen over a 20-foot ledge into a pit of rugged rocks. It was found that the horse had sustained a broken back and the animal was shot.

Friends

Hal
Cochran's
DAILY
POEM

How many friends have you really got, you, how many friends do you know? Just how do you tell just who is, or not, and how does real friendship grow?

A fellow will claim he's a friend of yours and his greeting for you is a smile. He feels that that one little thing assures that he is a friend worth while.

You only may see him when things are okeh and you carry troubles to sift. But 'supposin' things change on the very next day; he ready to give you a lift?

Expressions of sympathy; loans, now and then, will often give folk a new start. A friend sets you pluggin' all over again when your own backing hasn't the heart.

The answer to friendship is simple, at best: it's something that's easy to sum. I'll hang to the fellow, and pass all the rest, who's for whatever may come.

DANCE BY RICARD'S BELMONT'S TONIGHT

The familiar cry "play ball" to which Ricard's Belmonts responded many times during the past season will be replaced for this evening by another well known expression "On with the dance," for tonight the ball players from the house of Ricard are to conduct a dancing party at the Commodore Ballroom, on Thorndyke street just above the South common scene of many of their diamond conquests.

A feature of tonight's party will be the awarding of two loving cups, one for a prize waltz and the other in a fox trot. Four competent judges have been selected to pick the winners. Miner-Doyle's orchestra will be on hand to dispense music.

Solution of Gem Robbery

that the solution of the mystery was at hand. Following a conference between Inspector John Coughlin and Miss Irene

Flaherty, secretary to Miss Bobe, the inspector prophesied an arrest would be made soon that would end the search for the robbers. He would not say whether Miss Flaherty had furnished him with a list of the guests at Miss Bobe's birthday party Saturday night. It was at this party, which was said to have been attended by many of Broadway's celebrities, that police believe bandits secured information enabling them to plan the hold-up.

They have expressed the belief that one or more of them gained access to the party disguised as a guest while the celebration was at its height. It was also learned that police officials attach little importance to the two arrests already made in the case. The police place no credence in the suggestion, made by the district attorney's office, that Montague Pike, arrested Wednesday night after he had asked Miss Flaherty for $400 for information concerning the disposition of the stolen jewels, was connected with the crime. It was said.

The other prisoner, David Gleason, who insisted that he was one of the four bandits, told such a conflicting story that his confession was scouted by the detectives. Nevertheless, he was held on a charge of petty larceny and will be subjected to an exhaustive questioning at headquarters today.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

Yankees and Senators Tied for First Place - Dodgers Half Game Behind the Giants

IMPORTANT GAMES TODAY IN NECK AND NECK PENNANT RACES

New York Yankees Tackle Snarling Tigers In Detroit— Pirates and Dodgers Play Leading Role In Drama In Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press.) A snarling tiger crouches low in his western cave today, awaiting the invasion of a Yankee foe. His tall bandaged throat, his Quaker wounds, his jaw zealously guarding a frail pennant thread already worn almost beyond repair, the Bengal will fight for the honor of the west.

A similar scene will be enacted on the Atlantic seaboard today when Pittsburgh and Brooklyn will play the leading role in a drama which will be tragic to one or the other.

Washington and New York, in full view of the wire, are staging a mad dash down the American League stretch at breakneck speed. Detroit is struggling to keep up but slowly its cause is becoming hopeless. It must squeak a Yankee invader or accept defeat. Just as merciless is the pace which is being set in the National League. New York, with Brooklyn right on its heels, half a length behind, is exhausted by the dizzy pace. The Giants yesterday had their hair parted by the Cincinnati Reds, dividing a double header, losing the first game, 5 to 3, but coming under the wire first in the nightcap, 7 to 4. Brooklyn, battling frantically to overtake that meagre lead gained by the Giants, advanced to within a half a game of the 1923 champions by winning twice from St. Louis, 7 to 5 and 4 to 2. Pittsburgh today still two and a half games behind the lead, was only able to drop the first section of its double header, 6 to 3, but winning the second, 6 to 3.

Chicago and Boston, both hopelessly out of the swim, split even in their two sessions, the Cubs yanking the first game out of the fire in 11 innings, 4 to 3, but the Braves coping the concluding act, 3 to 1.

New York Yankee fans are thanking Joe Bush for a victory in St. Louis yesterday. The Yankees drove into the ninth inning, trailing by a lone tally when Bush slapped a home run on one of Wengert's scattered hits and knotted the game, the easterners emerging victorious in the first extra inning, 2 to 1.

Washington made it three straight from Cleveland by winning the final game of the series, 9 to 6. The Philadelphia Athletics almost ironed out the Detroit 'cause by winning a third straight victory from the Bengals, 5 to 3. In the other American league game the Chicago White Sox topped the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 3.

The complexion of both races is likely to undergo a decided change after the series at Detroit and Brooklyn are completed. One or the other in each series must totter. Water eventually finds its proper level and the 1924 races will prove no exception.

AMERICANS TO PLAY CHELMSFORD A. A.

Marie's Americans of the City Twilight League and the Chelmsford A. A. runners-up in the Lowell league, will meet for the first time on the South common tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and a great battle is expected. Walter Belleville, former member of South common teams, is in charge of the Chelmsford team and he promises to have all his stars in the lineup in an endeavor to land on the long end of the score.

The Americans will have their strongest forces in uniform. Gibbons and Freeman will be the battery, Tug Bridgford, Freddy Gleason, John Souza and all the other notables will be there.

SEMI-FINALS AT FRENCH LICK, IND.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press.) BOYLE LOSES TO FLANAGAN

New Bedford Whaler Awarded Decision After Tame Ten Round Bout

Madoona Defeats O'Brien in Hurricane Semi-Final— Gus Anderson Defeated

Tommy Flanagan of New Bedford won the decision over Phinney Boyle of Lowell in a rather tame main event, 10 to 8, in a ten round bout at the Moody club show in Crescent ring last night.

Flanagan substituting for Tony Julian, who withdrew on Wednesday when he met with an injury while training, Boyle had been training for three weeks, especially adapting himself to meet Julian's well known rushing tactics, and as Flanagan is of an entirely different style, the local boy appeared lost against him. Boyle was off on his distance, missing repeatedly the few times that he did manage to rally Flanagan pulled him into clinches and held on.

And to make matters worse Phinney sustained an injury to his left hand early in the fight, which proved an additional handicap as the bout progressed. The fourth round Boyle began to jab with the left and for a few moments he looked like the Boyle of old. But it proved only a flash in the pan. VESPER AND MERRIMACK VALLEY CLUBS UNITE

The Merrimack Valley Country club in Methuen announces an open amateur golf tournament under the auspices of the M. V. C. A. on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 26, 27. On these same days the Vesper Country club also will hold its annual full open tournament and to a degree the two clubs will work in-unison. They plan to unite in giving prizes for the best gross and best net scores over a combined 36-hole stretch, 18 at Vesper and 18 at Merrimack Valley. No extra fee will be asked for this special event.

The Merrimack Valley tournament will feature two gross and two net prizes and two prizes for the best selected nine in 18 holes of play.

Scientific Jottings

The man had just dropped from the eaves of a three-story dwelling, landing solidly, albeit rather awkwardly, on his skull.

"Are you injured, my good man?" inquired Mr. O'Grady.

Quick as a flash the poor wretch murmured, "I do not wish to deceive you, sir, I am."

Now here's where the kick comes in. Clearing his throat with an ordinary kitchen mop and fixing the fallen stranger with a humorous eye, Mr. O'Grady said, "I serve you right, you eaves dropper."

We don't see why Leonard's broken hand should stop the fight with Walker. It has been our observation that modern prize-fighters never use their hands anyway.

Dennsey is going to wait until he finishes fighting before he gets married. This is reversing the usual American custom.

Carpenter kissed an American chorus girl goodnight as he sailed for France. He did not kiss any of his American currency goodnight.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The Butler A. A. Seconds have organized for the season with a greatly strengthened line. The Butlers boast of one of the strongest eleven in or around the Spindle City.

Leroy McMahon has been selected to coach the team and under his direction it is expected, a successful year is in prospect.

Mr. R. O'Malley a popular young fellow from the Upper Gosham street district is to manage the team. He has had experience along this line and feels that his team will come through successfully.

The Ponies Seconds will play the Cadets Thirds on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the Lakeview ave. grounds. The following men are requested to report for final instructions and practice tonight at 6 o'clock: G. Knight, J. Allan, M. Carroll, Prue.

TO ORGANIZE CITY MINOR BOWLING LEAGUE

With various baseball leagues functioning here successfully during the summer months, plans to continue athletic activities during the winter season are under way. There were more leagues on the diamond the past season than ever before and all enjoyed success.

With the colder weather approaching, several men who piloted ball teams are planning to shift their attention to bowling and already a movement is under way to revive the City Minor league, one of the most successful organizations ever operated in Lowell.

And as might be expected, among the first to signify their intentions of entering this organization are several managers of ball teams. Tom Fleming, manager of the Bellows, winners of the City Twilight league pennant; John Peters, sponsor of Marie's Americans, also of the City league; Bert Dixon, Dixie-wif pilot of the Dixie Stars; Fix team; and several others are ready to shift their activities from bats and balls to the hickory pins. In all ten teams are expected to make up this league. With four in six more are needed. All must not necessarily be "baseball-bowling" teams. Any strong team is eligible.

While the rivalry that springs up on the diamond will be carried to the alleys, an additional incentive is planned. If ten teams are secured $200 in prizes will be awarded. The headquarters of the league will be the Crescent alleys, Hard street. All teams interested are urged to get in touch with the alley management as soon as possible.

The Crescent management looks for a very busy season and has put everything in readiness to accommodate its patrons. With the price of bowling two strings for a quarter an increase in business is already noted. In the basement where there are eight alleys strictly private for ladies and their escorts, heavy bookings for the season are reported.

Holler sitting is enjoying much success at the Crescent rink. Sessions are held every evening, except Thursday, with a special matinee on Saturday afternoon.

TWO DAILY PRACTICE SESSIONS AT TEXTILE

Morning and afternoon practice sessions were ordered yesterday for the Lowell Textile school football squad in an effort to whittle the team into shape for the first game of the schedule, which comes on next week from Saturday with Bates. Five new men reported to the squad yesterday, including Bentley, last year's centre. He weighs 220 pounds and looks fit for a hard campaign. Coaches Cawley and Perry have increased the severity of the hibernating program and the conditioning process will go on at high speed for another fall week.

NEW FOOTBALL ERA ABOUT TO DAWN AT LOWELL HIGH

Big Squad and Augmented Coaching Staff Point to Best Season in Many Years—New Assistant Coach, Al Pierotti, Arrives to Take Over Instruction of Line Men

Last spring Lowell high school entered a new era in track athletics and it now looks as if the football situation has reached the turn in the road and is ready to make a great leap and make progress along the highway of prestige and victory.

Never in the history of the school has such a large squad as the one out this year given proof of early-season interest. It is a well equipped squad, too, and the boys seem satisfied with conditions and ready to believe that everything is being done for their comfort.

Yesterday afternoon the coaching staff was augmented by Al Pierotti, of Everett who has signed a contract as assistant coach for a period of ten weeks and will work shoulder to shoulder with Head Coach Jim Listop to pull the local football situation up on to its feet.

Pierotti should be of great assistance and help. He knows the game in all its fundamentals and features and will take over the line candidates for special instruction. Pierotti went to work soon after he arrived at Alumni Field yesterday and for more than two hours between 30 and 40 boys of husky type and build listened eagerly to his instructions and explanations of the intricacies of proper line play.

Yesterday's total squad numbered 60, or more than five full eleven. They were grouped to allow Faculty Manager E. Conway to introduce Coach Pierotti who spoke briefly on the cardinal requisite of "fight" and asked for individual effort and co-operation from every lad in the field. After a word from Coach Listop, it was back to work.

While Pierotti took the line candidates to the side of the field Listop had the backs and ends on the opposite side of the gridiron. Practice was relentless, there were no rest periods, no fooling or horse-play. It was real work and a lot of it and that is to be the daily program from now on.

The squad as a whole shames up well and is of acceptable size. A number of the rangy type of boy are out for the team and there seems to be plenty of weight and speed. No one is sure of his job and the policy of having the starting team until game time will keep every man on his toes. One of the features of yesterday's practice was the kicking of Fred Vinal who is being groomed for a backfield position. He is tall and fast and weighs close to 200 pounds. Spinning kicks of 45 and 50 yards were sent booming down the field by his right foot yesterday and Coach Listop will make every effort to develop him into a triple threat man. Gibbons and Capt. Frank Iloron also will qualify as kickers.

There just has been finished at Alumni Field a special dressing room for coaches, with shower bath and toilet. It is apart from the squad dressing rooms and is a much appreciated addition to the field equipment.

Just a word about the new assistant coach, Al Pierotti.

Pierotti attended Everett high school from 1910 to 1913, inclusive, and was picked as all-inter-scholastic center. It still is said at Everett that he is the best football player ever turned out at the school. In 1914 he entered Washington & Lee university and in his first year of college football won All-Southern honors. He was picked as All-Eastern center in 1915 and as All-American center in 1916 and 1917. In his last year he was captain of the eleven. Pierotti coached Everett high school in 1918 and in 1919 and 1920 coached and captained the Cleveland Professionals. In 1921, 1922 and 1923 he played throughout the seasons with the Milwaukee Badgers, at that time considered the greatest aggregation of football men in the country.

In addition to football, Pierotti also starred in baseball and basketball and was captain of the Washington & Lee basketball team in 1916 when it won the southern championship. He played college basketball for four years and in 1920 joined the Boston National league team. This past summer he has pitched for the Lawrence Independents in the Greater-Boston Twilight league. Pierotti enters Harvard law school this month and is in a position to spend every afternoon in Lowell over a period of ten weeks.

"RED" O'HARE TO COACH BUTLER ELEVEN

George "Red" O'Hare has been appointed coach and quarterback of the Butler football team which reorganized at an enthusiastic session held last evening. "Caddy" McMahon, one of the Butler stars for several seasons, has been chosen captain, with P. A. Walsh manager.

The Butlers, prominent in football circles for the past several years, whose great battles with the O. M. I. Cadets will be pleasantly recalled by all followers of the pigskin game, are out this season to not only continue, but to attempt to surpass, their past achievements.

The team will formally open its season on Sunday afternoon, meeting the reorganized Wanderers on the old Fair grounds, now O'Donnell park, at 2:30 o'clock.

TILLIE BROOKE SMASHES RECORDS AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 18.—Starting in a special event arranged to meet the world's trotting race record of 2:01 1/2, the bay mare Tillie Brooke, driven by Tom Murphy and undefeated this season yesterday won over her stablemate, Mrs. Yerkes at Fort Miami park, trotting the first heat in 1:59 and the second in 2:01 1/2.

Tillie Brooke not only beat the race record, but also the record for two heats. In the first heat she went to the half in 1:09 and the three-quarters in 1:29, then trotting the final quarter in 2:04 and the mile in 1:59 flat.

Tillie led all the way in both heats, Mrs. Yerkes being lengths in the rear in the first one, but trotting in 2:02 1/2 in the final.

The previous race record of 2:01 1/2 was made at North Randall in 1903 by Harbinger Belle in a steeple race with Ghani. The race yesterday also established a new world's record for the previous record made by Harbinger Belle, her time being 2:01 1/2 and 2:01 1/2.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 4

In place of another roar the mother tiger slipped down on her side and started to whine. Of course Jack forgot all about the tiger being a dangerous wild animal and he immediately wanted to set her free. Just at that moment the native guide came upon the scene. He smiled at Jack.

"Just thought maybe you would run into this tiger's territory," said the guide, "so I set that trap. That mother tiger guards over her little ones and is liable to harm you if she thinks her cubs are in danger." Then he told Jack to step back while he unlocked the trap and freed the tiger.

"Why won't she hurt you, too?" asked Jack, as the guide started opening the trap. "Oh, she knows I am going to set her free," replied the guide. Then he opened the trap and the mother tiger pulled her front paw out of the trap and backed away behind the big tree again. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"I DON'T CARE," SAID MRS. WOODCHUCK. "WALLY'S NEW SUIT HAS SHRUNK."

One day Mrs. Woodchuck came waddling into Nancy, Nick & Company's store and asked if Mister Snip Snap, the fairyman, was there. "Yes, madam," said Nick politely. "Please sit down and I'll call him."

So Mrs. Woodchuck sat down, but she kept tapping her foot on the floor, and that showed that she wasn't as pretty much upset about anything. "How do you do, Mrs. Woodchuck," said Mister Snip Snap, coming from the back of the store where he had been making a pair of pink pajamas for Mister Ringtail Coon.

"Well, I don't do as you do," said Mrs. Woodchuck crossly. "I don't sell people clothes that shrink."

"Why, Mrs. Woodchuck," said Mister Snip Snap, "I never did such a thing in my life. I never did such a thing. You can ask Mrs. Frog and Mrs. Turtle. They ought to know, for their children are always in the water."

"I don't care," said Mrs. Woodchuck. "Wally's new suit has shrunk so that it won't button on him at all. The buttons are about two inches away from the buttonholes."

"That's very queer," said Nancy. "Because it did fit him just fine the day you bought it."

"Well, we like our customers to be satisfied," said Mister Snip Snap.

SERVICE BOARD UP ALL NIGHT

Departmental Superintendent

Order Hearing Into Charge
That Laborers Sold Dynamite Owned By City

The public service board yesterday afternoon opened bids for the construction of a new bridge over the railroad at Wilder street, held action on the award of the contract in absence, investigated reports that city laborers were selling dynamite belonging to the city, voted to have a public hearing for the involved men next Monday afternoon, and then spent the rest of the night delving into departmental books in an endeavor to find out street paving costs that were not obtainable from the superintendent or chief clerk of the department. The reason for this renewed interest in cost statistics is that the board has been requested to appear before the city council tonight and talk over departmental finances.

All three members of the board, Dennis J. Murphy, Frederick F. Meloy and Fred G. Leary, yesterday afternoon admitted that in the past several weeks they have been unable to obtain accurate data as to departmental finances. Figures provided by Chief Clerk Meloy of the department were challenged by City Engineer Kearney who said $24,000 of a $150,000 appropriation was unaccounted for in the tabulation. The board agreed to account so and unable to satisfactorily account for it they took over the task of going through the books themselves.

Mr. Meloy Disturbed
Frederick F. Meloy, member of the board who just returned from his vacation to find the board involved in this latest imbroglio under the present administration was wrought up about affairs.

"I'll stay here all night to get these figures," he declared. "And if I don't get the figures I want I'll not appear before the council. I have a reputation in this town, built up by years of hard work in the contracting business. I'll know them here and if I can't get them here to go before the council tomorrow night I'll resign this job. If for one will not go in there unless I know what I'm talking about."

Wilder Street Bridge Bids
Bids on the Wilder street bridge job, opened at the start of the meeting, were as follows: Burton E. Wright Co., $224,600; Zuel A. Hunt, $250,000; Engineering Service and Construction Co., $250,000; Thomas W. Johnson Co., $270,000.

Michael Husson, a local builder, appeared before the board in response to a letter from the chairman. He purchased a lot belonging to the city the builder replied in the affirmative and produced signed receipts, one on a street department form, bearing the signature of Michael McDermott. Papers purporting to be receipts signed by Robert W. Murphy and this same McDermott, both city laborers, for work in constructing a garage for Husson at 154 Fletcher street were also shown the board. Chairman Meloy said the while nearly $200 worth of dynamite had been purchased by Husson not one cent had been turned into the city treasurer. Further, he said, it is a rule of the board that no sales be made to private individuals or businesses.

Doherty Call Short
Supt. Doherty said he did not learn of the sales until they were called to his attention through Storekeeper Burns but that all the dynamite taken had been restored and he thought everything should be dropped. Chairman Murphy asked him if he missed the dynamite in the first place and he said he did not know how much was in the magazine and so could not miss it.

"How do you know any was returned?" asked Mr. Murphy.

"Because Burns checked it in, stick for stick and it's all back," said the superintendent.

"Do you know how much dynamite is in the magazine at the present time?" asked the chairman.

"No, I don't."

"Well then keep out of this. You don't know what you're talking about."

Hired Cement Mixer, Too
Husson said further that he had a cement mixer belonging to the city that had been on the job for two weeks and that he had agreed to pay $8 a day for the use of it. He had used it two days so far he said and was to pay only for the days it was used. Supt. Doherty, asked what he knew about this, said he had let Murphy and McDermott take the mixer.

"They said they'd get $5 a day for it, not $8," said Doherty. "I told them not to get cash but let Husson pay us in dynamite."

Husson then testified that Murphy and McDermott worked for him between 4 and 8 o'clock every afternoon. The time sheets of the department showed the men paid as working until 4:30 o'clock each day for the city.

On motion of Mr. Meloy it was decided to give the men involved, all civil service employees, a hearing next Monday afternoon and to postpone further inquiry until that time.

TO ADMIT GERMANY TO VETS ASSOCIATION

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Admission of Germany to membership in the Inter-Allied Veterans' association, "to promote world peace," will probably be granted, according to a statement made today by the American Legion convention today by Colonel Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, Texas, one of the American Legion representatives.

SAY 200 TO 300 PERSONS KILLED IN JADDAH

PORT SUDAN, Sept. 18.—The position at Jeddah is unchanged and the Wahabite invaders have made no further advance from Taif. Refugees who are arriving at Jeddah in large numbers from Taif say the first night after the capture of the town there was much shooting and pillaging. The number of deaths has not yet been ascertained but will possibly reach 200 or 300. Thousands of Mecca, which is sixty miles from Taif.

Revolt Called Great Disaster

defending force head characterized the revolt as a "great disaster" brought about by "treachery and treachery" but refused to concede defeat although he has offered to step down as military governor of Chekiang province in order to restore harmony in his lines.

The revolting armies were reported parading at Hangchow and Ningpo today carrying banners declaring allegiance to the invading Kiangnan forces. The telegraph lines were in possession of the revolutionary forces, but there was no evidence of a nearer approach of the Kiangnan army towards Shanghai.

General Lu's difficulty is an advantage for the central government at Peking which is supporting the invading forces. Defeat or retirement of the Chekiang military head would be a blow to General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, and Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, head of the government of South China, who opposed the central government.

Possession of Shanghai by the government forces from Kiangnan province would give the Peking government control of this gateway city and increase the power of the central administration.

Officers at the Lungkuang headquarters of the defending forces, in a statement issued today, said the revolt of the third army at Hangchow, does not mean the utter defeat of the defending forces and expressed confidence in a considerable number of the troops remaining in Chekiang.

During 1923 more than 40,000 miles of hard surface road were built in the United States.

Belanger is married and is a stationery engineer. According to a statement filed by him to the state police he and Mrs. Dragon were returning from Middleboro, in a taxi, when they had a dispute in consequence of his missing $100. He says that the woman jumped from the machine, striking on her head, dying almost instantly. He was arrested some hours afterward near the scene of the tragedy. The pair, it is said, had been spending the evening in a taxi ride which had started at Woonsocket, R. I. They had dined at the Middleboro road house. Both had been drinking, according to the police. Belanger was intoxicated when arrested. The automobile belonged to the Woonsocket Taxi Service. The driver was Edmund F. Pelletier of Woonsocket. The arrest was made by state police officers.

Card O'Connell Papal Legate

Reading of the pope's letter and Cardinal O'Connell's address. Amid profound silence, His Eminence arose and read the pontifical dispatch.

"Blessed is that people among whom is held in the highest honor and in public devotion the Holy Name," the message said. "We surely that people will be enriched by celestial favors and will progress prosperously along the road of happiness."

"Now, of your nation these things may be truly said, since from the time the confraternity of the Holy Name was established and propagated throughout America, chiefly through the zeal of the sons of St. Dominick, it has brought to its wake signal blessings both to the Catholic religion and to the civil welfare of the country."

"By stimulating the men of the country to the practices of virtue, by sanctifying the Christian family by establishing the principles of justice and peace this confraternity has contributed to these elements of moral life which redound to the strength and beauty of your nation."

Adding that no more beautiful sight exists than that of this "immense multitude of consecrated men" bearing public testimony of their faith, the letter said no wonder was felt at the Vatican for the "extraordinary infatuation in all dioceses of the country" on the part of all American bishops.

Reunion of Christian Manhood
"We have no doubt," the pontifical message continued, "that this convention held in the capital city of your nation, in the presence of cardinals, archbishops and bishops, and witnessed by a large gathering of the members of this society, will become a famous reunion of Christian manhood and will redound to the greater glory of God and to the welfare of the country."

A letter then read from Cardinal Ruggiani, protector of the Holy Name societies throughout the world, reviewed with praise the activities of the confraternity.

Cardinal O'Connell then delivered his address in which he dwelt upon the people's love for America and his recognition of its contributions to the welfare of the world. By sending to this convention his personal representative, the Cardinal said, the pope was encouraging all to greater devotion and zeal.

of love, devotion and loyalty to him who sits upon the throne of the fisherman, we send also our respectful salutation and our firm pledge of civic loyalty to the President of these United States.

In conclusion, the apostolic benediction was bestowed upon all those present and upon all members of the Holy Name societies.

for authority and obedience being first principles of Christianity, the cardinal said, through the Holy Name societies, "America has a great army in battle array, strong with the strength of God, who by every time of national stress and strain may be entirely depended upon as a bulwark against anarchy, disloyalty and disorder, which, whenever they appear."

No Wage Cut in Local Mills

pany suggestion of a 20 per cent cut, was awaited with avidity by both officials and employees.

Lawrence Mfg. Co. Change
In the hosiery mills, where lean business has been the rule much longer than in the other manufacturing establishments, the Amoskeag decision was held not to be of any significance as far as local concern goes. The Ipswich several months ago announced a readjustment of wages that was accepted by the workers. True there was a little grumbling, but the plant continued to operate without any semblance of serious industrial trouble. Officials at the time would not say that a general reduction had taken place, but some employees said their pay envelopes decreased as high as 15 per cent.

The same is true of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., makers of hosiery and underwear. Nearly a year ago this concern announced a readjustment of its allowances for piecework that some employees said affected them about equally as a 10 per cent. cut. Last week another readjustment of the allowance schedule for piecework was made by the company, and the work week increased from a three-day to a four-day week. Some employees say the cut is equal to 10 per cent. Agent Everett H. Walker of the company, while frankly admitting there had been a readjustment of wages, held that it was slight and the reductions varied according to the type of machine operated and the type of work on the machine. In some cases there was no variation he held and added that the changes were in this instance so slight no formal announcement was made nor was any notice of any "wage cut" posted.

It was purely a seasonal readjustment, said Mr. Walker, "such as we have been making from time to time as long as we have been in business. I would not call it a wage cut and do not think it fair to so call it. There is evidently a desire to make much of little. We are trying to get along and get as much business and provide as much employment as we can. Those seasonal readjustments were never termed wage cuts or wage raises in the past and I do not believe they should be made so much of now."

Amoskeag Plans Temporary
Mill operatives today laid stress upon the fact that the Amoskeag reduction is not a permanent reduction but that rather it was agreed to try the plan from Oct. 1 for six months to see if better business and a full time week should result therefrom. A statement to that effect was made public at the time of the announcement by J. Fred Miller, chairman of the company union at Manchester.

From officials of the association of Lowell manufacturers and from individual members thereof it was learned that the association thus far has not taken any steps toward a general wage reduction in Lowell and that settling of business rather than the wage question has been the main subject of conversation at their meetings. No call has been issued for any meeting to discuss wages nor is one likely or expected.

In Boston the acceptance of the Amoskeag proposal was looked upon as pointing to similar decreases throughout the cotton textile industry in New England. Amoskeag common stock showed a gain of over four points in the market when the settlement was announced. Pacific Mills common which in one day last week dropped 11 points showed a steady gain and closed the day at 76. It was consistently rumored that the Pacific Mills will soon register wage reductions similar to Amoskeag, urging the point that lower wages and cheaper cotton should work to restore normal conditions to the mills.

Lawrence Agents Emphatic
In Lawrence yesterday Irving Southworth, agent of the Pacific, made a strong statement in which he said that wage reduction had not even been discussed by the company officials to the knowledge of John A. Merrett, agent of the Arlington, made an emphatic statement in which he said a reduction had not been discussed there and the management had given no thought to a decrease.

Their statements in substance were the same as the opinion expressed by Lowell mill heads in discussing the matter today. Officials of the American Woolen Co., who operate mills in this district including the Ram's Head, the Beaver Brook, and the Bay State Woolen, have recently and repeatedly denied that any wage cut is contemplated.

The last announcement of President William M. Wood stated plainly that the matter of cutting wages was "the last thing thought of" and that he

MRS. MAE URDANG 114

Her "Young" Brother of 100
and Her "Boy" of 89, Attend Birthday Celebration

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—When Mrs. Mae Urdang celebrates her 114th birthday this afternoon in the Harlem home of the daughters of Israel, among those taking part in the jubilation will be her "young" brother of 100 years, and her "boy" who is just 89. In addition, 50 other aged men and women, inmates of the home, will join in the celebration whose feature will be the cutting of a birthday cake adorned with 114 candles.

In those remote days when Napoleon the Great was yet a living presence, and not a memory, Mrs. Urdang was born, the daughter of a confectioner in Riga. Her memory goes back to kings, queens and empires long ago, and despite her age she discourses vividly upon the scenes of the past. Mrs. Urdang takes a keen interest also in the doings of the present day and delights to have her confidantes read to her.

Her centenarian brother, who often visits her, she is said to regard as a "more striking" and often gives him the benefit of her sisterly advice.

Mrs. Urdang eats no meat or eggs and only few fruits and vegetables, living mostly on bread, cereals, soup and coffee.

personally would oppose any attempts to cut wages at this time.

Of course it is realized that should the mills in New Hampshire and Rhode Island all succeed in reducing wages the mills of this section would of necessity be obliged to follow suit in order to survive competition. That nothing is contemplated here was made emphatic. Equally emphatic were those interviewed when asked regarding what they thought as to the immediate future. It seems to be the opinion of those in charge of plants where the operatives have been hit hardest because of curtailed schedules that the operatives are in no mood to consider proposals of reductions.

Watchful Waiting the Rule Here
In Fall River and New Bedford the news of the success of the Amoskeag in New Hampshire and the Manville-Jencks Co. in Rhode Island in cutting wages 10 per cent has been received by operatives with the same promptness that it was greeted here. In all quarters however, it was apparent that so far nothing has been planned. What the future will bear is still a matter of conjecture.

Local mill officials interviewed today were practically unanimous in expressing regret that the uneasiness which follows the news from Manchester and Rhode Island should set in here just at a time when conditions seemed to be turning a trifle for the better. With both official and employee the only course, a Hobson's choice, seems to be to plug along and await to learn what fruit the morrow may bear.
